THE LENGTH, AGE, AND SEX RATIO OF CHUM SALMONIN THE ALASKA PENINSULA, KODIAK ISLAND, AND PRINCE WILLIAM SOUND AREAS OF ALASKA

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR = FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Stewart L. Udall, Secretury

FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE, Clarence F. Pautzke, Commissioner
BUREAU OF COMMERCIAL FISHERIES, Donald L. McKernan, Director

THE LENGTH, AGE, AND SEX RATIO OF CHUM SALMON IN THE ALASKA PENINSULA, KODIAK ISLAND, AND PRINCE WILLIAM SOUND AREAS OF ALASKA

by

Fredrik V. Thorsteinson, Wallace H. Noerenberg, and Howard D. Smith

Contribution No. 136, College of Fisheries, University of Washington

United States Fish and Wildlife Service Special Scientific Report--Fisheries No. 430

Washington, D.C. 1963

CONTENTS

	Page
Introduction	1
Data collection	2
Data analysis	2
Results and discussion	4
Intraseasonal variation	5
Length	5
Age composition	6
Sex ratio	7
Interarea variability	7
Length	7
Age composition	9
Sex ratio	9
Recommendations	9
Summary	16
Acknowledgments	16
Literature cited	17
Appendix	19
A. Biological statistics for chum salmon, Alaska Peninsula area, 1951-57
B. Biological statistics for chum salmon, Kodiak Island area, 1948-51, and 1955-57
C. Biological statistics for chum salmon, Prince William Sound area, 1952-58

Figure 1,--Western Alaska. Data on chum salmon were collected in three cross-hatched areas from 1948 through 1958.

THE LENGTH, AGE, AND SEX RATIO OF CHUM SALMON IN THE ALASKA PENINSULA, KODIAK ISLAND, AND PRINCE WILLIAM SOUNDS AREAS OF ALASKA

by Fredrik V. Thorsteinson, Wallace H. Noerenberg and Howard D. Smith, Senior Fishery Biologists Fisheries Research Institute, College of Fisheries University of Washington, Seattle, Washington

ABSTRACT

Data on length, age, and sex ratio of chum salmon from the Alaska Peninsula area from 1951 through 1957, the Kodiak Island area from 1948 through 1951 and 1955 through 1957, and the Prince William Sound area from 1952 through 1958 show that age and length composition in these areas varied in a similar manner. Lengths of fish in the 3-, 4-, and 5-year age classes overlapped to such an extent that length was not a useful guide to age. The average age composition for the combined samples was about 10 percent 3-year-olds, 75 percent 4-year-olds, and 15 percent 5-year-olds. Mean age decreased as the season advanced. The percentage of males decreased slightly as the runs progressed.

INTRODUCTION

Chum salmon (Oncorhynchus keta) rank third in abundance and value in Alaska's salmon fisheries. Despite their importance, little research has been done on this species.

The Fisheries Research Institute (FRI), College of Fisheries, University of Washington, collected data on the length, age, and sex ratio of chum salmon incidental to research on other species of salmon in the Alaska Peninsula, Kodiak Island, and Prince William Sound areas between 1948 and 1958 (fig. 1). No planned program for sampling chum salmon was organized, but data were taken when chum salmon were available and when the time required for processing them did not conflict with other studies. Because of time limitations, the material was not analyzed at the end of each year, and changes in sampling techniques that might be expected to follow such analyses were not made. As a result, the data presented here are not complete or continuous, and no comprehensive analysis of the chum salmon runs to the three areas for the years when sampling was conducted is made. In spite of its limitations, this material has importance because it is the only biological information concerning past chum salmon runs in the three areas.

Note.--Thorsteinson presently with Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, Juneau, Alaska; Noerenberg with Alaska Department of Fish and Game, Cordova, Alaska; and Smith with Fisheries Research Board of Canada, Nanaimo, B.C.

The objectives of this paper are to (1) present basic material collected during the several years; (2) draw tentative conclusions as to intraseasonal and interarea variability in length, age, and sex ratio; and (3) recommend methods of sampling for future studies.

The data discussed are from the commercial catch and the spawning grounds in the areas and years as follows:

- 1. Alaska Peninsula commercial catch, 1951-57.
- 2. Kodiak Island commercial catch, 1948-51 and 1955-57.
- 3. Prince William Sound commercial catch, 1952-53 and 1956-58, and spawning grounds, 1952-57.

DATA COLLECTION

The commercial catch samples were obtained chiefly at salmon canneries, but a small number were taken on the Prince William Sound fishing grounds during tagging operations. The spawning ground samples were collected during stream surveys and tag recovery programs in Prince William Sound.

Fish sampled at the canneries were caught by traps, purse and beach seines, and gill nets. The gear type was recorded, since certain types, particularly gill nets, were probably selective for size of fish and for sex.

The length from mideye to fork of tail was determined in millimeters by one of two instruments devised by the Institute's staff for measuring salmon in the field. These are described by Duncan 1 and Thompson. 2 Both machines give a straight line measurement and avoid much of the bias inherent in simple tape measurements.

For salmon taken on the spawning grounds the mideye-fork measurement had to be replaced by a mideye to hypural plate measurement because of eroded caudal fins on many of the fish. All measurements were converted to mideye-fork length by the formula

Y = 1.1048 X - 1.1052

where Y is the mideye-fork measurement and X the hypural plate measurement. The formula was calculated from paired measurements obtained from 228 chum salmon taken in traps on the Alaska Peninsula from June 20 to July 30, 1951.

Scales for age determination were taken from at least 20 percent of the fish measured in each sample. In small samples, proportionately more scales were taken.

Sex ratios were obtained from counts of fish as they passed along the cannery conveyor belts, or from piles of fish in the cannery bins. The number of fish used in determining sex ratios was usually more than the number measured for length. Fish in small deliveries were frequently canned before a large sample could be obtained.

DATA ANALYSIS

Data on length, age, and sex ratio were arranged by date and locality of catch.

Length measurements, recorded to the nearest millimeter in the field, were grouped in 1-cm. intervals. Some workers began their groups with even centimeters, e.g., 570 mm.; others began them 1 mm. larger, e.g., 571 mm. Since the corresponding centimeter groups would be 570-579 and 571-580, the midpoints 574.5 and 575 fell one-half millimeter apart. This minor discrepancy was not considered in analyzing the data.

To determine age, plastic impressions suitable for microprojection were made from scales that were mounted sculptured side out on gummed cards. The procedure is outlined by Koo (in press). Most of the scales were read by Thorsteinson and Noerenberg, but a few were read by Smith and other members of the FRI staff. Agreement in scale interpretation was tested by an independent reading of a set of 200 scales by each author. Eight scales were regenerated and judged unreadable by each reader. Some disagreement existed in interpreting the scales: 15 (7.5 percent) were read as different ages by one or more readers. In view of the difficulty in establishing the position of chum salmon scale annuli (Henry, 1953), this disagreement may not be excessive. It does suggest a need for standardizing methods of interpreting chum salmon scales and investigating patterns of scales from fish of known ages.

&lt;sup>1</sup>Duncan, Rea E. 1956. Two measures of the length of red salmon, Oncorhynchus nerka (Walbaum), their relation and application in the study of the catch and escapement in Bristol Bay, Alaska, M.S. Thesis, University of Washington, Seattle, 92 p.

&lt;sup>2</sup>Thompson, William F. Report in preparation at Fisheries Research institute.

Sex ratios were calculated as percentages.

The data, set up in standardized format, are arranged to provide the original material for analysis and reference in this report as appendixes A, B, and C. They are organized as follows:

- 1. A chronological tabulation of scale samples, giving each a number for convenient reference and showing the date, location of sample, gear used, and number of measurements and scale samples obtained (appendix tables A-1, B-1, C-1, C-2).
- 2. A map of each area showing localities where samples were taken (appendix figures A-1, B-1, C-1, C-2).
- 3. A frequency tabulation to the nearest half centimeter midpoint for all lengths having corresponding ages by age and sex. All fish less than 500 mm. and more than 749 mm. are grouped, because they make up insignificant numbers of the total (appendix tables A-2, B-2, C-3, C-4).
- 4. The sex ratio of all samples (appendix tables A-3, B-3, C-5, C-6).

In the Prince William Sound area, streams where spawning ground samples were taken are designated according to the time of their runs--early, middle, or late. Noerenberg classifies Prince William Sound streams as follows: early runs peak between July 15 and August 5, middle runs between August 6 and 20, and late runs between August 21 and September 10.3

Since sampling was not complete or continuous for any one year or series of years, the general relationships of length with age were studied by combining all length measurements by age classes for each area irrespective of the year, time of season, or source of the sample. In using the combined yearly data, two points were considered: types of gear used and the treatment of the spawning ground samples from Prince William Sound.

Gill nets are usually considered to be selective for size and sex. In our samples from gill nets, ages and lengths were distributed within about the same limits as in samples from traps and seines, and separating the data by type of gear did not appear justified. Usable data from the Prince William Sound commercial catch and spawning grounds were obtained in only 3 years. The mean lengths of 4-year-olds (table 1), the dominant age class. were similar; and no directional bias was evident between catch and spawning ground samples. Because of the similarity in lengths. all of the samples from Prince William Sound were used for comparisons with other areas. even though in some years samples were exclusively from the commercial catch and in some, exclusively from the spawning grounds.

In contrast to the similarity in length, the age compositions of samples from the catch and spawning grounds were not sufficiently alike to permit grouping. In table 2 age composition samples for 1952, 1953, and 1956 are combined by sex. The percentage of 3-year-olds in the catch is about three times that on the spawning grounds, and the percentage of 5-year-olds in the catch about half that on the spawning grounds. This approximate relationship prevailed in all 3 years having comparable data (appendix tables C-3 and C-4).

Changes in length composition were studied through the mean lengths of 4-year-old fish, grouped according to sex. Only 4-year-olds, the dominant age class, were studied, since changes in mean lengths of 3- and 5-year-olds varied in the same way as 4-year-olds. Changes in age composition were studied as numbers and percentages of fish occurring in the three age groups. Sex ratios were determined from entire samples.

&lt;sup>3</sup>Noerenberg, W. H. 1954. Prince William Sound spawning ground survey, 1954. University of Washington, Fisheries Research Institute, Circular No. 69, 19 p. [Duplicated.]

Table 1.--Mean lengths of 4-year-old chum salmon from Prince William Sound commercial catch and spawning ground samples, 1952, 1953, and 1956

	V				Females
Year	Comn	nercial	Spav	vning	Comme	cial	Spawning rear	cat	ch	gro	unds	catch		gro	unds
	Numbe	r Length	Number	Length	Number	Length	Number	Length
		Mm.		Mm.		Mm.		Mm.
1952	158	652	128	632	212	637	152	629
1953	351	622	683	634	424	620	572	617
1956	424	605	393	601	433	598	471	598
Mean		626		618		618		615

Table 2.--Age composition of 3-, 4-, and 5-year-old chum salmon in Prince William Sound catch and spawning ground samples, 1952, 1953, and 1956 combined

San and sanna	Age in years
Sex and source	3	3		4	5	5
	Number	Percent	Number	Percent	Number	Percent
Males
Commercial catch	88	26.0	227	67.0	24	7.0
Spawning grounds	43	8.7	367	74.3	84	17.0
Females
Commercial catch	39	11.5	275	81.4	24	7.1
Spawning grounds	11	2.4	377	83.4	64	14.2
_ 00

RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

More than 10,000 age-length determinations were made for chum salmon from the three areas. Age class 6 has not been considered in this paper because it occurs infrequently. The greatest number found in our samples amounted to 0.05 percent in the Kodiak Island area.

The most striking feature of the age-length relationship was the great overlap in the length distributions of fish in three age classes (fig. 2). Three- and five-year-old chum salmon overlapped through almost half their ranges, and 4-year-olds overlapped almost the entire range of the other two age groups. It is clear from figure 2 that length cannot be used as a reliable guide to age, or vice versa, in Alaska chum salmon.

Since there was no dependable relationship between length and age in any area, they are treated separately in the discussions of variability within seasons and between areas.

Figure 2.--Age-length relationships of 3-, 4-, and 5-year-old chum salmon in the Alaska Peninsula, Kodiak Island, and Prince William Sound areas of Alaska.

Intraseasonal Variation

To compare the runs of the Alaska Peninsula, Kodiak Island, and Prince William Sound areas intraseasonally, fishing seasons were divided arbitrarily into three periods—before July 1, between July 1 and 15, and after July 15.

In the division by time, we assumed that fish caught before July 1 on the Alaska Peninsula (except those taken at Chignik) were bound for areas other than the Peninsula. Chum salmon are captured simultaneously with pink and red salmon in the Peninsula fishery during June. Tagging experiments (Gilbert and Rich, 1927; Thorsteinson, 1959) showed that red and pink salmon taken at that time of the season were bound for other areas. Since it is possible that early chum salmon are also bound for other areas, we felt that the data for the three periods should be kept separate.

Length.--The mean lengths and standard deviations of combined yearly samples of age class 4 from each area are shown by the three time periods in table 3. To avoid bias in years when runs of exceptionally large or exceptionally small fish were not sampled in all time periods, the data are combined for only those years when three periods were represented in the Alaska Peninsula area and two in the Kodiak Island and Prince William Sound areas.

Table 3.--Variability in size of 4-year-old chum salmon in three time periods in catch, Alaska Peninsula, 1951, 1953-57; Kodiak Island, 1949, 1955-57; Prince William Sound, 1953, 1956, 1958

A		Males		Females
Area and time period	Number	Average length	Standard deviation	Number	Average length	Standard deviation
		Mm.			Mm.
Alaska Peninsula	Ì			ļ
Before July 1	665	600	29.0	677	5 70	25.8
July 1-15	676	605	32.8	661	589	27.5
After July 15	568	598	32.9	613	587	26.3
Kodiak Isla nd
Before July l
July 1-15	144	616	39.0	133	605	28.9
After July 15	227	635	38.7	234	611	33.7
Prince William Sound
Before July 1
July 1-15	84	618	37.0	89	598	3 2. 5
After July 15	169	617	30.6	208	608	29.3

Mean lengths of chum salmon of both sexes in age class 4 were slightly greater in the third period in the Kodiak Island area. Means were similar in all three periods on the Peninsula--for males the range was only 7 mm. The means showed no appreciable change with time of sampling in Prince William Sound.

Age composition, -- Age composition of the combined samples for all of the years is given by the three time periods in table 4 and shown graphically in figure 3. The data are so few in the first period for the Kodiak Island and Prince William Sound areas that only males from the Kodiak Island area are plotted in the figure. The age composition shifted with time: 3-year-old fish increased and 5-year-old fish decreased in relative abundance as the season progressed. Four-year-olds were dominant throughout the season and made up about three-fourths of the total run. This trend toward younger fish as the season advanced is not an artifact of combining the data. Catch data from the East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay and Izembek Bay areas of the Alaska Peninsula show the same sequence of shift in ages (table 5).

Figure 3.--Percentage 3-, 4-, and 5-year-old chum salmon in three time periods in the catch in Alaska Peninsula, Kodiak Island, and Prince William Sound areas.

Table 4.--Number and Percentage of 3-,4-, and 5-year-old chum salmon in three time periods in catch, Alaska Peninsula, 1951-57; Kodiak Island, 1948-51, 1955-57; Prince William Sound, 1952-53, 1956-58

Area, sex, and	Age in years
time period		3		4		5
	Number	Percent	Number	Percent	Number	Percent
Alaska Peninsula
Males
Before July 1	62	5.3	874	74.2	242	20.5
July 1-15	116	12.5	676	72.9	135	14.6
After July 15	140	17.2	618	7 5.8	57	7.0
Females
Before July 1	15	1.3	857	77.0	242	21.7
July 1-15	49	5.6	662	75.8	162	18.6
After July 15	58	7.0	698	84.9	67	8.1
Kodiak Island
Males	į
Before July 1	0	0	6	60.0	4	40.0
July 1-15	3	1.4	144	68.3	64	30.3
After July 15	54	7.9	455	66.5	175	2 5.6
Females
Before July 1	0	0	5	100.0	0	0
July 1-15	1	0.5	133	62.7	78	36.8
After July 15	24	3.8	436	69.1	171	27.1
Prince William Sound
Males
Before July 1
July 1-15	17	15.4	84	76.4	9	8.2
After July 15	93	28.8	206	63.8	24	7.4
Females
Before July 1	0	0	4	100.0	0	0
July 1-15	9	8.6	89	84.7	7	6.7
After July 15	40	12.8	251	80.2	22	7.0

This same situation is paralleled on the Prince William Sound spawning grounds. Helle (1960) 4 compared early and late spawning runs and found that in both, fish in age class 5 were most abundant in the initial stages of the runs, and fish in age class 3 became more abundant as the season of the runs advanced.

Sex ratio.--The sex ratio is shown by time periods in table 6. It was in favor of males early in the season and decreased slightly as the season progressed. The situation was the same in all three areas, although data taken before July 1 in the Kodiak Island and Prince William Sound areas are too few to be dependable.

Interarea Variability

Length.--In figure 4 the mean lengths of age classes 3, 4, and 5 are plotted by area to permit an evaluation of length with age. The

&lt;sup>4</sup> Helle, John Harold. 1960. Characteristics and structure of early and late spawning runs of churn salmon, Oncorhynchus keta (Walbaum), in streams of Prince William Sound, Alaska. M.S. Thesis, University of Idaho, 53 p.

Table 5.--Number and percentage of 3-, 4-, and 5-year-old chum salmon in three time periods in catch, East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay, 1951, 1952-57; Izembek Bay, 1955-57

Area, sex, and			Age i	n years
time period	3		4		5
	Number	Percent	Number	Percent	Number	Percent
East Anchor Cove-Ikatan
Bay			}		[
Males			ļ
Before July 1	32	8.3	278	72.4	74	19.3
July 1-15	88	24.0	233	63.5	46	12.5
After July 15	15	26.8	34	60.7	7	12.5
Females
Before July 1	7	2.1	282	83.2	50	14.7
July 1-15	35	11.4	216	70.4	56	18.2
After July 15	8	15.4	42	80.8	2	3.8
Izembek Bay
Males
Before July 1	1	1.8	53	94.6	2	3.6
July 1-15	10	3.1	278	85.8	36	11.1
After July 15	31	8.4	315	84.9	25	6.7
Females
Before July l	0	0	48	88.9	6	11.1
July 1-15	8	2.4	279	85.4	40	12.2
After July 15	10	2.6	343	90.3	27	7.1

Table 6.--Sex ratio of chum salmon in three time periods, Alaska Peninsula, 1951-57; Kodiak Island, 1948-51, 1955-57; Prince William Sound, 1952-58

Males		Females
Number	Percent	Number	Percent
1,634	53.0	1,446	47.0
2,392	53.0	2,081	47.0
2,446	52.0	2,255	48.0
		} {
70	70.0	30	30.0
400	52.0	373	48.0
1,415	49.0	1,462	51.0
5		4
416	49.0	427	51.0
025ء ا	45.0	1,252	55.0
	Number  1,634 2,392 2,446  70 400 1,415	Number Percent  1,634 53.0 2,392 53.0 2,446 52.0  70 70.0 400 52.0 1,415 49.0	Number         Percent         Number           1,634         53.0         1,446           2,392         53.0         2,081           2,446         52.0         2,255           70         70.0         30           400         52.0         373           1,415         49.0         1,462           5          4           416         49.0         427

Figure 4.--Mean lengths of chum salmon in Alaska Peninsula, Kodiak Island, and Prince William Sound areas by age and sex (points are unweighted means).

points are unweighted means calculated from table 7. The figure shows that despite the inconsistency of the sources of the yearly data, the basic relationships of size with age prevailed in all areas. Age class 3 females from the Kodiak Island area were too few to use. Mean lengths increased from west to east: Alaska Peninsula chum salmon were smallest and Prince William Sound chum salmon largest.

In table 7 the numbers of fish in each age class, average lengths, and standard deviations for each sample are shown for the three areas for the years 1948-58. Age classes containing fewer than 10 fish were not used in the calculations.

Lengths in each age class varied little from one year to the next, the greatest variation occurring in males in age class 4 from the Kodiak Island area; in 1955 males were 70 mm. (almost 3 inches) larger than those in 1948. In any year fish of the same age class tended to be relatively the same length. Even though fish of different ages were exposed to different growing conditions during their life in the ocean, they all tended to be relatively large or relatively small at maturity. For example, in 1952 average lengths were greater than the long-term mean, and in 1956, except for females in age class 4 in the Kodiak Island area, they were smaller.

Age composition.—The age composition of samples combined by years for each area is shown in table 8. All age data are grouped to give an average value for age composition of chum salmon in the general region under consideration. Age class structure of chum salmon of the central and western part of Alaska averaged about 10 percent 3-year-olds, 75 percent 4-year-olds, and 15 percent 5-year-olds. The percentages were fairly consistent from year to year.

Age composition for the Kodiak Island area varied from that for the Alaska Peninsula and Prince William Sound areas. In the Kodiak Island area about 27 percent of the fish in the samples were in age class 5, which was about twice the percentage of age class 5 fish in the other two areas. Fish in age class 3, on the other hand, formed a greater proportion of the Prince William Sound and Alaska Peninsula runs than they did of the Kodiak Island area When 'year-to-year changes were inspected with regard to the long-term mean age composition, it appeared that all three areas tended to vary in the same direction at the same time. For instance, in the Alaska Peninsula and Prince William Sound areas, low percentages of 4-year-olds were found in 1952. In 1956 in all three areas, high percentages of 4-year-olds were taken.

Sex ratio.--Sex ratio by area and by year are given in appendix tables A-3, B-3, C-5, and C-6. Differences in the percentage of males from place to place were negligible.

RECOMMENDATIONS

During the analysis we found that because of the inconsistency of collecting data by locality of sampling, season of the fishery, or stage of the spawning migrations, only general conclusions could be drawn about chum salmon in the various areas. More precise estimates of parameters of length, age composition, and sex ratio, as well as other biological statistics, are needed. With reference to the characters measured during this study, we recommend the following for future work:

1. Since the age composition in the fishery and the spawning migration does change during the season, samples should be taken from both at regular and frequent intervals.

- 2. If a program is to continue over a period of more than 1 year, sampling should be done in the same localities and the same time periods each year.
- 3. Larger scale samples than are customarily taken for determining age in other species of salmon are required.
- 4. To eliminate the task of converting length measurements, a single measurement, such as mideye to hypural plate, should be taken in both fresh- and salt-water samples.
- 5. In view of the difficulty in interpreting age from chum salmon scales, the problem should be reviewed and methods standardized.

Table 7.--Length statistics of chum salmon from Alaska Peninsula, Kodiak Island, and Prince William Sound areas

Area, year, and		Males			Females
age of fish	Number	Average	Standard	Number	Average	Standard
(years)	riamser	length	deviation		length	deviation
		Mm.			Mm.
Alaska Peninsula
1951	1
3	14	550	29.6	7
4	44	589	35.2	43	582	34.3
5	16	633	35.8	20	592	29.2
1952
3	56	564	37.6	20	557	26.5
4	50	612	39.3	85	599	30.1
5	8			11	625	28.4
1953
3	55	581	35.6	48	581	34.8
4	184	607	34.6	192	581	31.7
5	34	631	35.9	38	605	35.1
1954				į
3	183	567	28.7	45	550	24.6
4	840	611	32.7	845	59 7	30.7
5	225	640	36.4	265	627	27.4
1955
3	30	536	24.7	10	530	24.8
4	224	604	30.1	238	582	27.3
5	28	630	35.8	31	609	23.0
1956	1
3	41	546	27.7	19	540	22.0
4	716	592	26.8	737	578	24.2
5	35	624	23.6	31	603	24.9
1957
3	28	558	25.1	14	533	21.2
4	205	605	32.8	213	584	27.0
5	106	624	28.7	101	607	30.7
Unweighted aver age length (all	- years)
3		557.4			548.5
4		602.9		1	586.0
5		630.3		1 -	609.7

Table 7.--Length statistics of chum salmon from Alaska Peninsula, Kodiak Island, and Prince William Sound areas--continued

Area, year, and		Males			Females
age of fish	Number	Average	Standard	Number	Average	Standard
(years)		length	deviation		length	deviation
		Mm.			Mm.
Kodiak Island
1948			ļ
3	14	571	38.5	8
4	63	596	32.1	69	594	29.0
5	36	647	37.0	42	622	36.4
1949	1
3	2			3
4	99	603	31.2	110	588	30.4
5	62	631	36.5	40	609	27.0
1950
3	1	~		2
4	38	617	35.1	37	598	28.6
5	18	652	31.0	17	628	14.5
1951
3	1			1
4	11	651	36.8	4
5	7		}	11	615	26.9
1955	İ		1
3	4			0
4	81	666	35.4	86	634	26.1
5	61	681	28.4	82	648	24.9
1956			į
3	1			1
4	33	612	30.6	33	610	24.0
5	4			3
1957			1
3	6			0
4	120	630	32.9	101	614	25.3
5	24	663	29.4	32	623	28.0
Unweighted average length (all years)
3		571	ĺ
4	[	625.0			606.3
5		654.8			624.2

Table 7.--Length statistics of chum salmon from Alaska Peninsula, Kodiak Island, and Prince William Sound areas--continued

Area, year, and		Males			Females
age of fish	Number	Average	Standard	Number	Average	Standard
(years)		length	deviation		length	deviation
	-	Mm.			Mm.
Prince William	ļ
Sound
1952	ļ
3	27	606	20.9	17	593	16.4
4	47	644	27.3	41	634	28.0
5	22	681	23.4	32	669	27.9
1953
3	50	565	32.1	19	581	23.7
4	300	634	32.6	325	618	28.4
5	74	653	33.8	50	651	27.5
1954			1
3	29	569	29.5	15	5 7 5	21.2
4	20	647	39.2	25	625	40.4
5	7			3
1955			į
3	4		{	2
4	22	638	36.1	23	629	22.3
5	2		}	2
1956			į
3	53	564	31.6	14	573	25.5
4	245	601	29.9	288	598	29.9
5	11	633	42.8	5
1957	:		i i
3	12	623	40.6	3
4	77	625	30.3	80	623	42.3
5	20	628	31.8	24	647	33.4
1958	1
3	14	597	26.6	8
4	54	629	30.4	53	612	30.7
5	7			4
Unweighted aver-	- age length (all			1
years)
3		587.3			580.5
4	}	631.1			619.9
5	L	648.8			655.7

Table 8.--Age composition of chum salmon from Alaska Peninsula, Kodiak Island, and Prince William Sound areas

Area, year, and age	Mal	les	Fen	nales
of fish (years)	Number	Percent	Number	Percent
Alaska Peninsula
1951
3	14	18.9	7	10.0
4	44	59.5	43	61.4
5	16	21.6	20	28.6
Total	74		70
1952				15.0
3	58	50.0	20	17.2
4	50	43.1	85	73.3
5	8	6.9	11	9.5
Total	116		116
1953
3	55	20.1	50	17.8
4	184	67.4	193	68.7
5	34	12.5	38	13.5
Total	273		281
1954
3	183	14.7	45	3.9
4	840	67.3	845	73.2
5	225	18.0	265	22.9
Total	1,248		1,155
1955
3	30	10.6	10	3.6
4	224	79.4	238	85.3
5	28	9.9	31	11.1
Total	282		279
1956
3	41	5.2	19	2.5
4	716	90.4	737	93.6
5	35	4.4	; 31	3.9
Total	792		787
1957
3	28	8.3	14	4.3
	205	60.5	213	64.9
4 5	106	31.2	101	30.8
o Total	339		328
All years
-	409	13.1	165	5.5
3	2,263	72.4	2,354	78.0
4	452	14.5	497	16.5
5	3,124		3,016

Table 8.--Age composition of chum salmon from Alaska Peninsula, Kodiak Island, and Prince William Sound areas--continued

Area, year, and age of fish (years)	Ma	les	Fen	nales
	Number	Percent	Number	Percent
Kodiak Island			1,4411001
1948
3	15	13.1	8	6.7
4	63	55.3	69	58.0
5	36	31.6	42	35.3
Total	114		119
1949
3	4	2.4	4	2.6
4	99	60.0	110	71.4
5	62	37.6	40	26.0
Total	165		154
1950
3	1	1.7	2	3.6
4	38	66.7	37	66.1
5	18	31.6	17	30.3
Total	57		56
1951
3	1	5.3	1	6.3
4	11	57.9	4	25.0
5	7	36.8	11	68.7
Total	19		16
1955
3	4	2.7	0	0
4	81	55.5	86	51.2
5	61	41.8	82	48.8
Total	146		168
1956
3	1	2.6	1	2.7
4	33	86.8	33	89.2
5	4	10.5	3	8.1
Total	38		37
1957
3	31	8.5	9	3.0
4	280	76.5	235	78.9
5	55	15.0	54	18.1
Total	366	13.0	298
All years
3	57	6.3	25	2.9
4	605	66.9	57 4	67.7
5	243	26.8	249	29.4
Total	905	20.0	848	⊔/•I

Table 8.--Age composition of chum salmon from Alaska Peninsula, Kodiak Island, and Prince William Sound areas--continued

Area, year, and age	Mal	es	Fem	ales of fish (years)
	Number	Percent	Number	Percent
Prince William
Sound 1952
3	27	27.8	17	18.9
4	47	48.5	41	45.6
5	23	23.7	32	35.5
Total	97		90
1953
3	50	11.7	19	4.9
4	302	70.9	324	82.4
5	74	17.4	50	12.7
Total	426		393
1954				24.0
3	30	52.6	15	34.9
4	20	35.1	25	58 .1 7 . 0
5	7	12.3	3	7.0
Total	57		43
1955			2	7.4
3	4	14.3	23	85.2
4	22	78.6	2	7.4
5	2	7.1	27
Total	28		41
1956	-	17 4	14	4.6
3	54	17.4 79.1	287	93.5
4	245	3.5	. 6	1.9
5	310	J.J	307
Total	310		And the second s	and the same and t
1957	12	10.8	3	2.8
3	77	69.4	80	74.8
4	22	19.8	24	22.4
5	111	17.0	107
Total	111
1958	14	18.4	8	12.3
3	55	72.4	53	81.5
4 5	7	9.2	4	6.2
Total	76		65
All years
3	191	17.2	78	7.6
4	768	69.5	833	80.7
5	146	13.2	121	11.7
Total	1.105		1,032
All areas and years
3	657	12.8	268	5.5
4	3,636	70.8	3,761	76.8
5	841	16.4	867	17.7
Total	5,134		4,896

SUMMARY

Data on length, age, and sex ratio of chum salmon were collected between 1948 and 1958 in the Alaska Peninsula, Kodiak Island, and Prince William Sound areas of Alaska. The data are not complete or continuous, as no formal program for sampling was organized. Material was collected according to the time available to biologists working in the areas and the availability of the fish. The data are the only biological information (except for catch statistics) for past runs of this species in the three areas, and as such represent an important source of historical and reference material. They are therefore included as an appendix to this report.

Analyses were performed by grouping the data by years, by area, and by time periods within years. The data permit only general statements concerning the chum salmon runs to three areas, but do provide a measure of the intraseasonal and interarea variability in length, age, and sex ratio.

The analyses are summarized as follows:

- 1. Length distributions of chum salmon in the three principal age classes overlapped considerably. Three- and five-year-old length distributions overlapped by 50 percent, and age class 4 overlapped almost the entire range of the adjoining two age classes. Consequently, length is not a useful guide to age in these areas, and vice versa.
- 2. Little difference was found in the mean size of chum salmon of the same age class either among the three areas or during the spawning season. Prince William Sound fish were largest. Mean lengths increased from west to east.
- 3. Age class structure of the chum salmon runs of the central and western regions of Alaska averaged about 10 percent 3-year-olds, 75 percent 4-year-olds, and 15 percent 5-year-olds.
- 4. Age composition is similar in the Alaska Peninsula and Prince William Soundareas, but somewhat different in the Kodiak Island area.

Kodiak Island has significantly more 5-yearold fish and fewer 3-year-old fish than the other two areas.

- 5. Age composition of the runs changes within seasons in all three areas. As the season progresses, 3-year-olds increase and 5-year-olds decrease. The percentage of fish in age class 4 remains fairly constant throughout the season.
- 6. Sex ratios do not deviate markedly from 50:50, either by area or in time. The trend is toward fewer males as the season progresses.

ACKNOW LEDGMENTS

Several members of the Fisheries Research Institute staff contributed to the work reported here. The principal contributors were John F. Roos, who conducted some of the sampling and read some of the scales from the Alaska Peninsula area, and Charles E. Walker, who collected data and read scales from the Kodiak Island area.

Salmon packers who assisted in the three areas were:

Alaska Peninsula area:

P. E. Harris Co., Inc. Pacific American Fisheries, Inc. Alaska Pacific Salmon Co. Alaska Packers Association Chignik Fisheries Co.

Kodiak Island area:

Alaska Packers Association
San Juan Fishing and Packing Co.
Kodiak Fisheries Co.
Pacific American Fisheries, Inc.
Parks Canning Co.
Libby, McNeill and Libby
Washington Fish and Oyster Co.
West Point Canning Co.
Halferty Canneries, Inc.
King Crab, Inc.

Prince William Sound area:
Halferty Canneries, Inc.
New England Fish Co.
San Juan Fishing and Packing Co.
Copper River Co-op, Inc.

LITERATURE CITED

GILBERT, CHARLES H., AND WILLIS H. RICH. 1927. Second experiment in tagging salmon in the Alaska Peninsula Fisheries Reservation, summer of 1923. Bulletin of the U.S. Bureau of Fisheries, vol. 42 for 1926, p. 27-75. [Document No. 991, issued December 3, 1925.]

HENRY, KENNETH A.

1953. Analysis of factors affecting the production of chum salmon Oncorhynchus keta in Tillamook Bay.

Fish Commission of Oregon, Contribution No. 18, 37 p.

KOO, TED S. Y.

(In press) Age and growth studies of red salmon scales by graphical means. Publication in Fisheries - New Series, vol. I. College of Fisheries, University of Washington.

THORSTEINSON, FREDRIK V.

1959. Pink salmon migrations along the Alaska Peninsula. In Alaska Fisheries Briefs, p. 1-7. U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Circular 59.

APPENDIX

A. Biological Statistics for Chum Salmon, Alaska Peninsula area, 1951-57

Table A-1. --Particulars of measurements and scale samples of chum salmon taken in Alaska Peninsula commercial catch, 1951-57 (BS = Beach Seine, PS = Purse Seine, T = Trap, GN = Gill Net)

			Gear	Number o	of measurements	ements	Number	r of scales	les
Date		Sample number and location	nsed	Male	Female	Total	Male	Female	Total
1951	6	•	ç (		Ì			,	,
	June 20	- Cape Lutke	PS	2.8	96	183	∞	∞	16
	July 10 and 14	1	Ţ	215	242	457	30	30	09
	July 17 and 20	3 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	T	157	201	358	17	16	33
	July 27-30	4 - Shumagin Islands	H	308	245	553	19	16	35
	Total			292	784	1,551	74	70	144
1952
	July 19	5 - Shumagin Islands	H	44	40	84	18	20	38
	July 21	6 - Shumagin Islands	Ţ	115	114	529	38	38	92
	July 22	1	H	29	53	120	23	19	42
	July 24	8 - Shumagin Islands	Ţ	52	47	66	20	19	39
	July 25	9 - Shumagin Islands	H	29	48	115	17	20	37
	Total			345	302	647	116	116	232
1953
	June 8-14	10 - Cape Lutke	PS	86	101	199	19	20	39
	June 15 and 17 11	1	PS	38	35	73	20	24	44
	June 20	12 - Cape Lutke	PS	99	09	126	19	17	36
	June 20	13 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	Ţ	81	73	154	16	19	35
	June 22	14 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	T	29	61	128	15	18	33
	June 29-30	15 - Chignik Bay	BS and T		172	491	32	34	99
	June 30	16 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	Ţ	121	114	235	70	16	36
	July 2	17 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	T	108	102	210	18	18	36
	July 7 and 10	18 - Shumagin Islands	H	246	215	461	38	37	75
	July 17	19 - Shumagin Islands	T	117	121	238	19	20	39

taken in Alaska Peninsula commercial catch, 1951-57 -- Continued (BS = Beach Seine, PS = Purse Seine, T = Trap, GN = Gill Net) Table A-1. -- Particulars of measurements and scale samples of chum salmon

		Gear	H	of measurements	rements	Number		4)
	Sample number and location	nsed	Male	Female	Total	Male	Female	e Total
1953 continued
July 21	20 - Shumagin Islands	T	116	87	203	18	20	38
July 24	21 - Shumagin Islands	Ŧ	122	100	222	70	19	39
July 27	22 - Shumagin Islands	Ħ	115	121	236	19	19	38
Total			1,614	1,362	2,976	273	281	554
1954
June 10-20	23 - Cape Lutke	PS	226	240	466	205	212	417
June 18	24 - Kujulik Bay	BS	41	41	85	36	37	73
June 18-22	25 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	٢	161	141	302	154	133	287
June 22	26 - Kujulik Bay	BS	62	69	148	80	29	145
June 23-24	27 - Chignik Lagoon	BS	20	40	06	48	41	89
June 25-27	28 - Chignik Lagoon	BS	09	09	120	09	99	116
June 27	29 - Chignik Bay	H	09	58	118	52	46	86
June 30	30 - Kujulik Bay	BS	40	40	80	36	38	74
July 5-9	31 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	H	180	115	295	171	113	284
July 7	32 - Aniakchak Bay	BS	46	44	06	34	41	75
July 9-10	33 - Herendeen Bay	BS	46	86	195	145	145	290
July 14	34 - Herendeen Bay	BS	20	20	40	19	16	35
July 15	35 - Bear River	US	19	21	40	19	70	39
July 16	36 - Moller Bay	CN	14	13	27	14	12	97
July 16	37 - Bear River	CN	80	74	154	74	20	144
July 16	38 - Nelson Lagoon	Z	∞	12	20	∞	12	20
July 19	39 - Bear River	CN	20	20	40	18	20	38
July 24	40 - Herendeen Bay	BS	47	40	87	38	38	92
July 25	41 - Nelson Lagoon	ND	20	70	40	70	70	40
July 28	42 - Nelson Lagoon	ND	19	21	40	19	18	37
Total			1.287	1, 187	2.474	1 248	155	2, 403

taken in Alaska Peninsula commercial catch, 1951-57 -- Continued (BS = Beach Seine, PS = Purse Seine, T = Trap, GN = Gill Net) Table A-1. --Particulars of measurements and scale samples of chum salmon

		Gear	Number	of measurements	rements	Number	jo	scales
Date	Sample number and location	nsed	Male	Female	Total	Male	Female	Total
1955
June 14-18	43 - Cape Lutke	PS	90	36	98	23	18	41
June 17-21	44 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	T	39	44	83	56	21	47
June 26	45 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	H	16	10	56	10	∞	18
June 29	46 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	T	13	15	28	15	13	28
July 1	47 - Izembek Bay	BS	37	35	72	20	18	38
July 5	48 - Izembek Bay	BS	54	56	80	18	19	3.7
July 7	49 - Izembek Bay	BS	21	53	90	61	20	39
July 9	50 - Izembek Bay	BS	13	22	35	13	20	33
July 12	1	BS	51	90	101	20	18	38
July 13		BS	44	46	06	19	19	38
July 13	53 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	[H	0	0	0	∞	80	16
July 16-20	54 - Izembek Bay	BS	144	143	287	46	46	86
July 17	- 1	H	28	22	50	16	19	35
July 20-23	56 - Pavlof Bay	H	30	39	69	56	56	55
•
Total			540	517	1,057	282	279	561
1956
June 18-22	57 - Cape Lutke	PS	56	14	40	25	12	37
June 23	58 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	⊣	92	20	146	39	35	74
June 25	59 - Cape Lutke	PS	55	63	118	38	39	2.2
June 28-29	1	BS	102	59	161	99	54	110
June 30	61 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	PS	86	80	178	36	40	92
July 3-5	1	٢	124	144	268	61	64	125
July 9-13	63 - Izembek Bay	BS	438	305	743	157	156	313
July 16	64 - Izembek Bay	BS	26	96	193	37	40	22
July 17	65 - Izembek Bay	BS	17	18	35	15	17	32

taken in Alaska Peninsula commercial catch, 1951-57 -- Continued Table A-1. -- Particulars of measurements and scale samples of chum salmon (BS = Beach Seine, PS = Purse Seine, T = Trap, GN = Gill Net)

		Gear	Number	Number of measurements	rements	Numbe	Number of scales	les
Date	Sample number and location		Male	Female	Total	Male	Female	Total
1956 continued
	66 - Izembek Bay	BS	42	64	143	40	40	80
July 19	67 - Izembek Bay	BS	47	45	92	39	39	28
	68 - Pavlof Bay	Ţ	20	19	39	18	18	36
July 20	69 - Izembek Bay	BS	99	44	100	39	38	22
July 23	70 - Izembek Bay	BS	20	89	138	37	4	22
July 24		BS	61	70	131	40	38	28
July 27		T	99	46	102	40	38	28
July 30		T	82	98	168	39	39	78
July 30	74 - Izembek Bay	BS	37	48	85	36	40	92
Total			1,541	1, 339	2,880	79.2	787	1,579
1957
June 20-21	75 - Cape Lutke	PS	43	09	103	34	51	85
June 21-22	76 - East Anchor-Ikatan Bay	GN and T	119	92	195	53	36	89
Time 30	77 - Ivanof Bav	PS	129	47	176	37	35	72
[m]v 3 =9		BS	111	85	196	28	22	115
Tuly 8 and 12		BS	197	211	408	62	74	153
Tily 16=17		BS	100	84	184	39	39	7.8
July 25	81 -	T	101	80	181	39	36	75
Total			800	643	1, 443	339	328	299
					_	_

Figure A-1.--Localities where chum salmon samples were taken in the Alaska Peninsula commercial catch, 1951-57.

Table A-2. --Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57

Sample No. 1	The set A	Samific 140: 2		East Angle		, (		Callip	Sample No.	. ,	,	San	Sample No.	70.5
tke	East Ar	chor C	ove-	East Anch	Ancho	East Anchor Cove-	- e	Shum	agin	Shumagin Islands	spu	Shu	magi	Shumagin Islands	nds
June 20, 1951	July 10 and		14, 1951	July 17	7 and	1 20, 1951	951	July	27-3	27-30, 1951		Jul	July 19, 1952	1952
			Sex	x and	age
Fema	Male	Ĺτι	emale	Male		Female	le	Male	-	Fe	Female	Male	e	Fe	Female
5 3 4 5	3 4 5	3 4	2	3 4	5	3 4	5	3 4	5	3 4	5	3	4 5	3	4 5
				1		2									_
				$1 \mid 1 \mid$				_					-1
1 1 1	2	1			_	1		L
	1 1			1	oures.		-	_					-
	11	1 1	1	1		3		-					2		-
: 2	3			1	_		-	2							-
	1 4 1	3	1	1	American Str.		-	-		-	-	-			2
1		4	2	-	-	2	-	_		-					-
	$\begin{bmatrix} 1 & 1 \end{bmatrix}$	1 4	1	1	-	3		3		2	7	-			3
	2 2	11	1						Ξ		7	2		-	2
	4	1   2	1	1	1	2		3		_		7	1		2.1
				11						2	1	-		Ì	4
	1 1 1	1 1	2	( 1)	-		2	1		7	2		2 1		2
11	1							1	7			73079	Eutrewa		2)
1]	2	1		1720	1		A460714		- aradon (			1
	Draw	1		1						Nary Prese
	ranou			- 07574				1			and Advisor
	P. Maria		Stand	-1760			.,,,,,,,,						S. read	A STORES	2
	Jenne d			2.000				- Croper	2				LATE SOM	e Telescon
		APPROVED	-jihoro	-Martin						gr	1 mm
*//		accom-		- 1497 m											1.11 -0.
													PI PUN		ļ
				-,0
	7174				-				-				ers-scr		.
	- max 1	ger o		wench	-			-		-	-		. 72
		- 1			ļ.,		-	_		-	-
	Unene	n 1		Α.				-
			J. 1000y a					-
310 5 13	7 01 7		ļ	(

Table A-2. -- Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57 - Continued

		1		5		1						1	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·		)		3	7741	Danipic No.	,		í	Carribac 140.	)		2
by centi-	Shumagin Islands	agir	ı İsl	and	(n	$\mathbf{Sh}$	uma	gin	Shumagin Islands	spu	נט	hun	ıagiı	n Isl	Shumagin Islands	·^	$\mathbf{Sh}_{l}$	ımaչ	yin I	Shumagin Islands	ds	υ 	Cape Lutke	Lut	ke groups	July	21,	1952	٥1		July	2	2, 1	1952			July 24,	24,	1952	2		July	y 25,		1952		 	June	8-14,		1953
(mm.)									Sex	and	age
	Male	1	Ľ4	Female	ale	Mal	ule		Fe	Female		Male		1	Female	le	Male	le		Fen	Female	M	Male	_====	ഥ	Female
	3; 4	Š	3	4	5	3	4,	5	3 4	2	3	4	5	3,	4	5	3	4	5 3	4	5	3	4	را س	8	4 5
505						1					- m.				-		2	-	L
515	2,										3			7			2	-		-				-	-	-
525				(Pph.P			7	-	-		2							-	_	HAUTE				-	-	-
535	11		2	~		7		-	-					ĩ				-	_	P69-83		_			-	2
545	4		7			-	H	-	2	L	L			-	-		-	+	-	-			2		+	+
555	2 1		2	4		-		-						7			2	-	-				3	1	$\vdash$	4
565	2		7	-	_	-	2	-	-		_			-	-			-	-	Ch.			-			3
575	2 [			3				-	_					=	3		-	2		25.00	-		-		-	3
585	1.1		2	5		-	-	-	7					-	3		-	-	_	3			2	-	-	2
595	1			2		-	-		3		3	_			-		-	-	_		- Indian		4		-	-
605	11 4		1	4			-	-	-		1	1			2			-		(1)			2		_	-
615	1 1			1	1	1	7	-	1	7		2			-1					7			-		_	-
625	[ 3			1		1	7					1		~			p 103m2 1,4	1		7				43,0946
635	1 4			1		-	-	-	2			1			1		13.710-27			2	1			Lana
645	4	2		7	1			-		2								1		1			1		-	_
655	_	7		-			7	-			1			9F-917-9-				1		n/es			HOLD M			-
999								-	1			1		Dan (Yangali e			wasery			·			-
675	-			-	1		, T					heart or	The Prince		-					er eges (			Pr- N Print
685	-10		-				-	-			_	13=14			-			T. TILLS *X		Later and					_
695			-	4487			-	-					1				ma arrica d	1799-2		rasi'na i					_
705		J	-	Atagre	-			-					Cinclu					nn wed	_	m=4 75a					-	-
715				,,			-		_		_	East 1784	and a					a y thapped							_	_
725			-	- option				-	-	Daniel V	_		lem		-		P	P 4.3.							_
735				M				-			_		ATE OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON ADDRESS OF THE PERSON ADDRESS OF THE PERSON ADDRESS OF THE PERSON ADDRESS OF THE PERSON ADDRESS OF THE PERSON ADDRESS OF THE PERSON ADDRESS OF THE PERSON ADDRES
745			-	~1	Ĩ.			-				_		_				-								_
755							-	-			_				-			-	_	-			- Compression
500		0		140				_									-	-		_			province in
759		П	H	11	1		╁╅	╁	+-	$\coprod$	H	$\sqcup$			H	- dans	-	H			-				+	+
Ttal	16 18	4		22	-	13		ŀ		-	+		Ī		1	-		+		1

Table A-2. --Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57 - Continued

Length	Sample No.	bre		11	ž 	4111	) 1		1		1	Danipie No.		7	_	מ	campie No.	ע	. 14		מק	Cample	o Z	2
by centi-	Cape Lutke	Lu	tke		Ű	ape	Cape Lutke	ke		Law Table	East	Ar	East Anchor Cove	r Cc	ve-	ப்	ast A	Anch	East Anchor Cove	ove-	Ch	Chignik Bay	Bay meter	,		•				0	Ĺ		patha at pa	Ikatan Bay	an E	3ay	1		IK.	Ikatan Bay	Bay	- 1			)	• groups	June 15	15	and 17	17, 1953		June	, 70,	1953			June 20,	20	, 1953	53		r L	June 2	22,	1953		June	ne 29	29-30, 1953	195
(mm.)									Sex	إبر	and age	ě
- 3 1E 16E.	Male	- 1		٦×۱	Σ	Male	ı	ഥ	ä	1	ಡ	1		Female	ale	×	Male			Female	Male	le		Female
JH J-1	3 1 4	5	3	4 5	3	4	5	33	4		3 4	5	. 3	4	5	3	4	5	3 4	1 5	3,	4 5	3	4
505	reess	-	n estative							m746	r son							_		,			_
15	- CORDON	_	president			E grate	or steam		r gjin	-		_		130		-		$\vdash$	_	_		-
25		_							2 1		.7-46.						-	-	2			-
35		_		1	2			-	7		2	-Cath		4		Ţ	-	+	_	-		-	L
45	Prode 2			2	2.4	-		-	7	-		-4-	D-4-MC	-				-	_	_	1	_	_
55		_	wag.	2	-	1		-	2				Darlin C	4			-	_	4		7	-	4
65			m/Hz.	2	-				9		_	-	12.00				2	-	_	_	2	_	4
75	4		1-22-4-4	4 1	PZZBR-1 4	2	1		1   2		M-wes		n. * 134 1	2	7		-	_	_			_	2
85	7		produce of	3		2	1		مياتمو		2			3				_	1		2		9
95	[ 3		o*: 40	2		-					3			1	I		T	-	- Victor et 4		4	_	4
05	-	7		5	e Pages	1			1.00		1			-	1		3				4		5
15		-	P-81701	2	e anvê s	1					2						2			-	9		3
25			r edera.		g-vitage i		1	MICH MAN					a-medire					396		1	2	_	7
35	-	_		1		1					1	Menoral					10	r super	2		2		7
45	1 2	1					1	-				1					- 10,000		rtme	7	1 1		1
55	-	1		6	rwe.					) (Semigraph of	_	-					1	1		y.mine	-
55					P. STANKA	1					_					an-	1	1	kres caj	-trice	2		1
15			ey me	1						-	7						-	-			bottom
35	-	_			-				-		-
35												-				Appropries	gast-srid		an again. A	)-1.8Fq.ed				ractros
)5		_						-	-		H	-							ļ	£ 1771-14	eraine			T s/scours
. 51									-	-	-	-				echters.	PD-871.48	g-var-4		mate 8	- 10-14
25	-								-		-	-	-			ner Cour	PCMFor II SH	gan-d			ermont and	_
35		_			_						_	-			1		rac gra	A-48 YY		10.44	(Crystown			1,00,00
15		-							-		-	Ŋ.				T UP N	.0	4	474		edesea	_		m.) 10,-71 d
55		4						+		+	H		H				10	1	1		4	4
500							-														-2444			W
59	-	4						1	1	-	-		1					+	+	H		#	$\parallel$
	7 .	,																•

Table A-2. -- Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57 - Continued

by centimeter groups (mm.)	East Anchor	nchc	(													7					· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ups n.)			or Co	Cove-	된	East Anchor	chor	Cove-	re-	Shu	mag	in Is	Shumagin Islands	an.	Sh	uma	gin	Shumagin Islands	spı	S	uma	ıgin	Shumagin Islands	spi
nps	Ikatan Bay	Bay			Ika	Ikatan Bay	ay													- n.)	June 30,	), 19	953		July	2,	1953			July	7	nd 1	and 10, 1953	53	Ju	July 17.		1953		Ļ	July 2	21, 1	1953
								Sex	and	age
	Male	*	Female	ale	j Mal	ale		Female	ale	Mal	le		Female	ale	Mal	ale		Fer	emale	M	Male		Fe	emale
505		5.3	3 4	ۺ	3	4 5	3	4	5	3	4 5	3	4	5	3	4	5	3, 4	5	; 3	4	5	3 4	5
0		Ţ.,			n-next e		_								54, 44		-	NAPLE .
515		240-7-50					_					1,						i ins				-	700	Troping 20
525							_	2					-				-		_				1.70.9
535		and the state of		7		1		-				l.			7	,						-	;
545		m	4			L 10 -	_	1		7	_		-			45.00		_				-	-sirkn
555	1932			~~~	440-	2		name.	-	_		-	3				-	 $$54 			-	-	2
565	1 1	-	1			2	_	2			3	> 	3		7					~~~	riserre	1000	rease)	-10
575	2		4	1,2			-	-		_	3 1		ις 			7					3	* ::::::::::::::::::::::::::::::::::::	2	o et ani
585	2	Tayon	-		-	5		2			2	~	9	-		1		1	_	a derica	r spreading		1 2
595	. 2	pp-4ki	1			-							4	1		1		3		1 1	D3040.75	Lydd Yr	3 2	L- NEL W
909		~	crass.			-		-			2 1		4,					[ ]			1		4
615	3		·,						,		2 1	-	2			3		3	_		2	1 17 ph (2*)	70	- total
625	oyne (		ę.e.	den bi inv		1				-	9		1 }			1	. 8080	7667.0		per a part	3	V-EN-CA-CA-CA-CA-CA-CA-CA-CA-CA-CA-CA-CA-CA-		Epito-S
635				ann and a	er vilje se	1			1		1 2		1	1	2-1	-	*/mm.*i	2			3	-0,54.	a	чыция
645		1		produces.	-4400	-				_	3		1 }			3	etrores (n.)				1	ti 	7	or Alba
655	3			- ery s		1	_	~~ ~		-	1					2		-		a- 1.	111		in a fa un a.	E COM
665	degree			-4780		1					2 1						1	فالمستحد			100		, And Line	-
675			_		granders.		pt Systemic						r-cab-sci			manned	2	hallen dagen d	net year	· rachiri s		PERM		vástra.
685	raji.	Once		day.		- OIE	_										. ,,,,,,				-	1220	مدي	- of TEM
969	ration :		Ja rreno	rris a	a top equi	MIGRO (					7	·····	D/Janes		-			AP 14 1 2	_					1240
705	50.50	1			annyste (	rau.		lleery								3740								St. reg de
715						e senze 4		, and									.		. 5-12 9 44			-1.07.04		NCO.
725	0					ela-ta i		, n									) 1770a4					**	-	~
735						) restruci																m uh
745		_		780 Paul		P 11 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1			0-															يود د
755		H																				-	H
500		-	-				_	-														Ì
759		H								$\left  \cdot \right $								-		_				-
Tctal	2 13	5	2 11	3	7	17 0	7	11	5	229	7	7	32 3		~	14	2	1 16	3	7	16	0	0 20	0

Table A-2. --Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57 - Continued

Sample No. 21	Sample No.	Vo. 22	Samp	Sample No.	o. 23	Samp	Sample No.	24	Sam	Sample No.	. •
Suumagin isianus	Similar	Silwinagini Islands	Cap Pd	cape Lutke	Đ,	Aujulik	к Бау	•	East	East Anchor Ikatan Bav	H	Cove-
July 24, 1953	July 27,	1953	_	1-20	June 1-20, 1954	June 18,	18, 1954	4	June	18-22,	2, 1954	4.
		Sex	and age
Fema	fale	Fema	Male	L	0	Male	_	Female	Male	6)	Fe	Female
4 5 3 4 5	3 4 5	3 4 5	3 4	5	3 4 5	3 4	5 3	4 } 5	3 4	4 5	3/4	5
											-
					2				_		-	_
	1				5		e consti		4		4
			1		6				-		5	L
1			4		23 1				-		2
			3		20	-	1		2 4		18	7
1 1	1		12		28				1 7		177	_
1 2 3	1	2	12	2	24	-	stów.		2 8	2 8	112	0.7
2 1 3		2	22	-	33 6			2	2 10	-	14	4
1 2		2 1	17	-	15 2		- Q1 E1		1 6	E	07	2
1	1 3		12	1	14 7	4		3 1	1 12	3	10	4
2 1	3	3 1	20	-			2	-	20	9	-	2 2
		1 1	12	4	5 5	3	1	2 4	21	4	-	9
2	1	2	17	I	2 3	4	1	4 3	_	7 2	dear (c)	2 2
2 1 1 1 1	1		5			1	2	2 4	3	3		1 2
1 1	5	1 1	Literatus	7	1 1	-	3	2 3	5	9	_
3 1			pi contra				2	3		5		_
1 1		-1	3	1	stored	1	) gyynnu			1	- SHEAR	L
			rates d				2 ?	2		entrovi	an.	and See
	1						-	and the same		c:VRC		_
				100-70	and the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of the same of th		HESAVI H	1		r-1	Vastora
				ac-VIICO			1			930	1,7850-6	-
							457	Physical Phys		Marie Marie		Taca-i
				2564				-		enties :	-
				AAGH;						en en se		760,0
				ege e				-30		s Albert
				+2 (p+1)	Surjection,					an cgr		-
					7.05			n
	7116	1 1 1 1	200			1	X	N. P.	k

Table A-2. -- Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57 - Continued

rengin	internal	•					7				_		•			2	_	Jan	Sample No.	5	63		מ	sample No.	Te P		20
by centi-	Kujulik Bay	lik 1	Зау			ပ်	Chignik Lagoon	k L	agod	ц		Chi	gnil	Chignik Lagoon	0081	п		Chig	Chignik Bay	Ba)			ᄍ	Kujulik Bay	ik E	lay group	June	, 22,	1954	4		Ju	June 2	23-24,		1954		June	e 2	25-27,		1954		June	27,		1954			June 30,	30,	1954	4
(mm.)										Sex	and	age
	Male	0		Fernale	le	Μş	ale		F	Female	•	Male	(e)	-	Fe	Female		Male	ره		Female	lale	2	Male		ഥ	emale
	3 4	5	A	4	5	3	4	5	3	4 5		3	4	5	3 4	4 5		3 4	4 5	3	4	5	3	4	5	m	4
	1								-	_	-			-	_		_	 	 	_			_				_
							-	$\vdash$	$\vdash$	-	-	-	$\vdash$	-	_		L	_	L	L			L			╁╴
	1		F	-				$\vdash$	$\vdash$	$\vdash$	$\vdash$	$\vdash$	$\vdash$	$\vdash$	Ļ			-	L							+	+
	Ξ			-		-		-	$\vdash$	$\vdash$	+	$\dagger$	$\vdash$	+			_	¬		L						╁	+
			T	+			-		$\vdash$	-		-	-	-	Ļ.	L	_		L		F		L	F		+	1
						Ξ	-		-	-	-	_	$\vdash$	-	-	L	L									1	-
	4			-			-	-		-	-	-	-	├			L	Г	L					F		t	1
				65			4	-	-		-	-	_	$\vdash$	2	_		1 6	_							┢	一
	9	-		3			2		-		 		4	-		3	L	1 7		L	5	-		2			7
	10	7		2	L		4		L	6	-	-	9	-	2	1.5	_	-	_		80		_				7
	9	1		4			7		4	4	-	-	3	2	9	6 1	_		3		-		_	7	2		5
	7	-		3	4		7		-	3 2			7	_	30	8	_	3	_		2			-	-		4
	5	Ξ		4	7		3	1	-	7	-	-	9	-	5	5	_		3 1		80		-	2	-		7
	1	-			7		3	1		8 2			2	1	2	-	L	9	_	L	9			_			-
	3	-	Ĭ	၈	5		7	1		2 1			7	1	1				1	L	4	7		3	-		7
		7		=	9		2	2				_	3	_	1	2	_		1		7			7	7	_	ī
		2			2		7				-	_	1		_		_	2	7				_	_	1		- wat
		1			1		1	3	_		-	-	-	2	_			2	1	 	2		_		-		7
		7							-				1	1	_	L	_	_		_			_				-
		7		-	7		-	2	$\vdash$		-	-	-	1	_	L	_	_	_	_			_	_	-	-
		-					-	$\vdash$	-	-UASS		-	-		_	L	_	_	7				_				DOMEST !
							-		-	_	-	-			_	L	_	_		L			L		7		-2-010
				Deret 140			-	-	-	es/autra	-	-	-		_	_	_	Ľ					_		_
				PATRICULAR SECTION			$\vdash$	$\vdash$	-		-	-			L	_	L	COLONIS	_	_			_	-			) Cale in
							-		-	num.	$\vdash$	-	-		_		_	-	_				_				34.34
	Н	Ц					╢	Н	H	$\left  \cdot \right $	H	H		┥┥	$\sqcup$		$\sqcup$			Ц
		Ц		-		$\prod$	H	H	H	H	H	╁	╁	╁┼	H	Ц	H		$\coprod$	$\coprod$			$\sqcup$	Ц			Filtra
759		-		+		†	+	+	_	+	+	+	_	_	4	_	-	+	+				1			1
											•							ı									ľ

Table A-2. -- Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57 - Continued

Length	Sample No.	ple	Š	. 21		Ode	sample No.	o Z	70		D.	din	sample No.		_	-1	ami	Sample No.		4 5		Sa	Sample No.	ž	35	^
by centi-	Eas	t A	East Anchor		Cove-	Ani	Aniakchak Bay	ak ]	3ay		Ħ	ren	deer	Herendeen Bay	>		Herendeen Bay	nde	en ]	Зау		ñ	Bear River	Sive	н meter	Ikatan Bay July 5-9, 195	an .	Bay 9, 1	954		Jul	y 7,	1954		-	Ju	1y 9	-10,	July 9-10, 1954	₩.		July 14,	14,	1954	4		Ju	July 15,		1954
(mm.)									Sex	and	age
	Male	e l		Fer	Female	W	le		Female	lale	X	Male		Fe	Female	-	Male			Female	ale	M	Male	-	Fe	emale
	3	_	5 3	3 4	5	3	4 5	3	4	5	3	4	2	3 4	4 5	,	3 4	5	3	4	J.	3	4	5	3] `	4 5
	-	-						-						_			_								 	-
	-		2	_			-	-						-		-	_	_					-		L	$\vdash$
	9	-	5	100				-			F				_	-	L	_					-	$\vdash$	L	$\vdash$
	4	2	2	-			-	-				7				-	_	_				-	-	-	┞	┝
	88		7	7 2			-	-			7	-		1		-	_								-	-
	11	2	7	9			-	-	1		2	4		3		_	_	_				-	-		-	-
	01	9	2	2			-	-	2		3	9	2	2 2		-	L	_					-		-	-
	7	3	2	∞			2	-	1		2	3		2	2	-	 									2
	-	3	_	Ξ	2		2	-	4			9	2	1 6		-	_	_		7			7	-	_
595	5	9		10	1		2	-	4		-	91	2	16	5 3	_	7			1		-	3			2
	9	7 1		ις.	2		3 1		4		2	10	3	14	7	-	3	1		2	2	1	-	40100	_	3
	2 11	-		9	3		2		9	1		12	3	18	8 12	H	2	_		2	1		-		 	4
		7 3		10	2		5 1		3	1		6	3	15	μ.	_				1			1	1
	15		2	5	_		3		2	2	-	8	4	10	2 (		7	1		7			2	2		1
	-	7	3	2	3		2		7	2		6	4	7	 	-	7	_		-	2		-		-	-
	H	9					2		1	1		3	4	2	2	H		1			1				$\vdash$	Ξ
	-	3			-		-			-		7	4		1	_	_	-					$\vdash$	-	-	-
	-	_	_	L			1   2			2		3	7	_		$\vdash$	_		L				-			_
	H	3					_					-	-			-	_	_					-		$\vdash$	$\vdash$
		-	7									-	_			-		_						-	_
	-	-										7		_	-	-	_	_
	-	-	_				_			2			-	L	_	_	L	_						_	ļ
ij	-	-	L				-								_	_	-	_							-	-
Ī	-	-	_			-	-						-	_	_	-	ļ.									-
	-	-					-							_	_	-		L								-
	H	H						П			Н	Н	H	$\sqcup$		H	Ц								Н	Н
	H	Н											-	-		-	_	_							-	-
		+									H	H	H	$\prod$				$ \cdot $						Н	H	Н
T tot	1000																Į

Table A-2. --Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57 - Continued

				Female	2		-			-	_			_	2		-		_	├-	2		_	L	_		_	 			_		H	8
Sample No. 40 Herendeen Bav	a a	1954		Fe	3 4	L	$\vdash$	-	-			2	_		4	9	3	4	2	3		_	-		_	-		ļ.,	╀	$\perp$	-	_	_ "	97 5
Sample No. Herendeen				_	5	-		-	-	$\vdash$	┝				-	┝		-	-	3		2	-		$\vdash$		┝	-	+	$\vdash$	H		Н	, 5
mpl		July 24,		Male	4					1	-	2		4		3	-	3	2	4		2		-	-	1.475		-	-	-	-	-	+-	152
Sa	•	J.		Ř	3			-	T	┢	l	7	-	H	-	-		-	-	-		 			-				t	T	T		_	8
				le	5										2		_																	4
39		4		Female	4	-	 	 	_				3		3	4		2	-	-	_	-	-	-		_			$\dagger$	T	$\vdash$		H	15
1	1	1954		4	3			$\vdash$	╁╴	-	T		-	-											-		T	 	t	1		-
Sample No. Bear River	•			_	5																				-				İ					Ī
amp		July 19,		Male	4	_	_	_			L	_	_	-	3	7	 		_	-										L				∞
S E	}			  ≥	3			L	L		2			2	-		7			L								L	$\perp$					0
				ale	2																													c
38 on		4		Female	4									Γ	-	2	4	_	2	-														-
0	0	1954		Н	3								7					Г							T				+	 			H	F
ole l	,	16,			5	,																-												-
Sample No. Nelson Lag		July 16,	age	Male	4		_										2		1		1												Ц	7
\$ 2		-	and	N	3		_	_		L		-			_		_	_	_	_	_	 	 	ļ.,	_	_		L	$\vdash$	_	-	-	H	7
			- 1	emale	5									7	m	3	7	m.	7		-	-												1.7
37		4	Sex	${\tt Fem}$	4						_	-	4	10	∞	10	2	11	_	-		-		-	-				1	-	434	Kop.au	OPE	7
No.		1954			. 3				7	7																								٢
Sample No. Bear River	;	]  6,			5						_		4				1	-		1	1	1	1		1							,		=
Sample No. Bear River		July 16,		Male	4					L	3	 		_		9	4	3	_	7		2				_		L	_					02840
ωщ		]		١	3			4	3	7	-	5	]	5	_				1													per tra		2
				ale	2																													c
36		4		Female	4									4	3	-	7	7				1												2
No.		1954			3																	and the same of										-040		C
ple er E	•	16,		ایر	2	1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1		_	_	_	_		1	_							_			_	L.	_	_	_	-	-	L		Н	Ŀ
Sample No. Moller Bay		July 16,		Male	3 4		_	_	_	L		1		2	3	_		1		1	L	H		2	L	L	L	_	L	-	igspace	_	Ц	-
		اد.	-	41	(4)	1	_	_	_	-	$\vdash$					·					 	Н			_	_	_	_	-	$\vdash$	$\vdash$	_	Н
Length by centi-	meter	group	(mm.)			505	515	525	535	545	555	265	575	585	595	909	615	625	635	645	655	999	675	685	969	705	715	725	735	745	755	500	759	E

. Table A-2. --Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57 - Continued

Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoon   Nelson Lagoo	Length	Sample No.	le h	1	41		Sa	Sample No.	e Z	0.4	42	-	San	ple	Sample No.	43		S	Sample No.	le	1	44		Sa	Sample No.	S	1	45
The control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the control of the	by centi-	Nelsc	йL	ago	uo		ž	slsa	ı La	0081	u	-	Cap	ē	utke			ᄪ	ast	Anc	hor	S	- e -	日	.st.⊿	Inch	or	CO	9
Dily 25, 1954 July 28, 1954 June 14-18, 1955 June 17-21, 1955 June 26, 19  Male Female Male Sex and age Remaile Male Female Male Remaile  meter												1						kataı	ı Bê	³.y			ĮĶ.	atan	Ba	. >	)	)
Male   Female   Male   Female   Male   Mal	group	July		195	4		Ju	1Jy 2	8,	954		-	Jun	e 14	-18		55	J	une	17-	21,	195		Ju	ne 2	9	195
Male         Female         Male         Female         Male         Female         Male         Female         Male         Female         Male         Male         Male         Male         Female         Male	(mm.)									Se			e
3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4		Male	1		emi	ale	X	ale		14	emal		Mal	e	_	Fen	nale	2	fale			em	ale	ž	ale	Γ	F	Female	le
1		3	↤	~	4	5	3	4	2	3	$\dashv$	H	$\vdash$	_			5	3	_	5	3	4	5	3	4	5		4	5
1	505										_	=	-	-	L				-		$\vdash$	-					-	$\dagger$
1	515									$\vdash$		-	_	$\vdash$	_	L					T	$\vdash$					T	-
1	525									$\vdash$	-	-	-	$\vdash$	$\vdash$			_			T	-						+
1	535										-	H	$\vdash$	$\vdash$	-	L		2				-				T	T	T
1	545	-1					Н		T	+	$\vdash$	-	$\vdash$	+	-	3			L		T	8			2		+	1_
1	555	-			-					-	-	H	╀╌	2	$\vdash$	4	L				T	+				1	T	7	1
1   1   1   1   1   2   1   1   1   1	565	1					-			-	-	-	+	-	-	上		L	L			4					T	T	1
1	575	1					5				_	-	-	_		3			_		T	3			-			7	1
1	585	1			-					2		-	Ť	41	-	_	-	_	5	2		2	-		3			T
2       2       3       1       1       2       1       1       2       1       1       2       1       1       1       3       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1	595	1					-		$\vdash$		_		H	1 2	_			L	-			$\vdash$	2		-			$\vdash$	1
1       2.       6       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1	605				3				$\vdash$		$\vdash$		H	-			_		3			$\vdash$			7
1   1   1   1   1   2   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   1   3   3	615			3	9						2	H	-	$\vdash$		-	-	_	3						-			_	1
1 1 1 4 4	625	$1 \mid 1$			1		1	3		=	3	=		_	_			_	7
1	635	1	1		4					-	2	-	-	-	_			L	_	-								$\vdash$
	645	1			7			4				-			L			_	7	-		-
1	655	1			7						_	-	-	_				_										$\vdash$
1	999	1			1		1	7					-	-				_	L
1 9 10 1 0 20 0 10 9 0 4 13 1 3 16 4 0 15 3 4 18 4 0 15 6 0 10 0	675	1								_	_	-	-	-				_					_					$\vdash$
1 9 10 1 0 20 0 10 9 0 4 13 1 3 16 4 0 15 3 4 18 4 0 15 6 0 10 0	685									-	-	-	-	-	_			_				-						$\vdash$
1 9 10 1 0 20 0 10 9 0 4 13 1 3 16 4 0 15 3 4 18 4 0 15 6 0 10 0	695										-		$\vdash$	-	-			L								Γ			1
1 9 10 1 0 20 0 10 9 0 4 13 1 3 16 4 0 15 3 4 18 4 0 15 6 0 10 0	705								T		-	-	$\vdash$	-	_												┢	H	1
1 9 10 1 0 20 0 10 9 0 4 13 1 3 16 4 0 15 3 4 18 4 0 15 6 0 10 0	715				-		M			-	-	-	-	-	_												$\vdash$
1 9 10 1 0 20 0 10 9 0 4 13 1 3 16 4 0 15 3 4 18 4 0 15 6 0 10 0	725									-	-	-	-	-	_													H
1 9 10 1 0 20 0 10 9 0 4 13 1 3 16 4 0 15 3 4 18 4 0 15 6 0 10 0	735				-						-	-	-	-	_							T						$\vdash$
1 9 10 1 0 20 0 10 9 0 4 13 1 3 16 4 0 15 3 4 18 4 0 15 6 0 10 0	745										-	-	$\vdash$	$\vdash$	L			L				 					$\vdash$	$\vdash$	1
1 9 10 1 0 20 0 10 9 0 4 13 1 3 16 4 0 15 3 4 18 4 0 15 6 0 10 0	755		П								-		+	$\vdash$	-			_										- al 9 10 1 0 20 0 10 9 0 4 13 1 3 16 4 0 15 3 4 18 4 0 15 6 0 10 0	500												-	-				_									_	$\vdash$
al 9 10 1 0 20 0 10 9 0 4 13 1 3 16 4 0 15 3 4 18 4 0 15 6 0 10 0	759					П		П		H	H	Ħ	H	H	┦	$\coprod$		Ц	Ц	$\coprod$	Ħ					П	H	H	1 1
	Total	9 10	_		20	0	10	6	0	4	- BURGING	=	_			لـــــا		4		4	0	15	9	0	10	0	=	7	0

Table A-2. -- Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57 - Continued

Langth	8	Sample No. 46	Ž	4		7	Z E	Z	÷	_	7	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·						Carribre 110:	1	ì		 	•
Length.	4	Fast Anchor Cove-	ortor.	Ŭ	ove-		Isembek Bay	ek 1	3ay		—	Izembek Bay	bek ]	Bay			Ize	Izembek Bay	K B	r,			Isembek Bay	N	Say meter	H	Ikatan Bay	Bay	.V 1955	I		ulv 1.	51	1955			July 5,		1955			July 7,	۲٦,	1955	ĸ,		- ń	July 9.		1955
group/	31							1	S	Sex and	J	age												1
	5	١	-	100	Female	2	Male		F	Female	-	Male		  -	Femal	le	Male	le		٤	Female	$\dashv$	Ye.			T.
	3 4	·	5 3	4	2	~	4	5	3 ,	4   5	↓	ب	4 5	3	4	5	3	7	2	m	\$	$\dashv$	 	\$	7	4
505			$\vdash$			$\sqcup$	Ц					$\dashv$	$\dashv$	_					+	+	+	+	$\downarrow$	$\downarrow$	1
5	_		_	_					-	$\dashv$	-	$\dashv$	+	$\downarrow$					+	+	+	+	+	$\downarrow$	1	T
15			-			_			1	-	$\dashv$	+	+	_					$\dagger$	+	$\downarrow$	+	$\downarrow$	$\downarrow$	1	T
15	-	-	H						-	$\dashv$	+	$\dashv$	-	1					$\dagger$	+	+	+	+	$\downarrow$	I
545							-		+		+	+	$\dashv$		_].			1	+	-   "	+	+	$\downarrow$	$\downarrow$	I	T
555	E	-	-	1					+	_	$\dashv$	+	+	$\int$	-				+	7	+	+	+	$\downarrow$	I	7-
55		-							+	~	$\dashv$	-	4	$\perp$		brack		-	†-	+	+	+	\	+	I
15		-		1					+	$\dashv$		7	$\dashv$	$\rfloor$	7		Ţ.	٠,	╅	+	+	+	+	$\downarrow$	I	, [,
35		-	-	4	1					7	-	~	-		m]		-	• ,	$\dagger$	+	+	+	+	+	1	,
35	-		-	F			-		$\dashv$	7	$\dashv$	+	4		m			7	$\dagger$	*	-	+	#	4	1	1
5	-	7		-	_		2			2	$\dashv$		긔		-	_		7	+	7	+	+	1	$\downarrow$	I	-
15	-	E	-	7			2	1			3	4			-	_		*	+	+	-	+	-	$\downarrow$	I	٦-
25	-	-	+	-		-				1			4		3			-1	$\dagger$	+	4	+	1	$\downarrow$	1	1
35		E	-	-	-	-						7	_		7				$\dagger$	$\dashv$	+	+	+	1
4	F		+	-	-	-		-			1	7						7	+	$\dashv$	+	+	- (	4
55	F	1	+	H	-	-	3				1							2	_	+	+	+	7	4		T
29	-	T	+	+	-	-			-	$\vdash$	-	-						7	+	$\dashv$	$\downarrow$	+	$\downarrow$	$\downarrow$
75	1	1	+	+	-	-		E	-	-	-	-						1	+	$\dashv$	$\dashv$	+	+	$\downarrow$
85	F	İ	F	+	-	-	-		-	H	H							1	+	+	+	+	+	1	I
695	-		+	-						$\dashv$	$\dashv$	4	-				1	+	$\dagger$	+	$\downarrow$	+	$\downarrow$	$\downarrow$
0.5									$\dashv$	+	$\dashv$	+	4		1		$\dagger$	$\dagger$	+	+	$\downarrow$	+	$\perp$	+	I
15							_		+	+	+	+	-					1	+	+	$\downarrow$	+	$\downarrow$	$\downarrow$
25				-					$\dashv$	+	$\dashv$	+	-				1	+	+	+	+	+	$\downarrow$	$\downarrow$
35			-	-					$\dashv$	+	$\dashv$	+	+		T		+	+	+	+	+	+	$\downarrow$	$\downarrow$
45						_			+	+	+	$\dashv$	4				1	$\dagger$	+	+	$\downarrow$	+	+	$\downarrow$
755	Н		H			_			$\parallel$	$+\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!\!$	+	$\parallel$	$\parallel$	1		$\parallel$	$\parallel$	$\dagger$	╫	#	#	╫	$\parallel$	$\parallel$
500	Н		H	$\mid \cdot \mid$	+	-	1		+	+	+	$\downarrow$	_		T		$\dagger$	+	+	+	-	+	$\downarrow$	$\downarrow$
759	-		4		-#			ľ	#	12	#	1/2	1	c	1.7	-	-	4	~	17	2		1 12	0	-	91
1040		_	~		_	_	2			_	-				_	1	4		1	-	_		-	_

Table A-2. -- Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57 - Continued

Laternbek Bay   Hatat Anchor Cove-   Lembek Bay   Pavlot Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay   Laternbek Bay
Sex and age  Sex and age  A 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5
Sex and age  Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Femal
Female         Male         Female         Male         Male         Female         <
4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5
1
1
1
11
1
1
2   1   2   2   3   4   5   5   5   5   5   5   5   5   5
2
2         1         6         5         1         8         2         1         8         2         1         8         2         1         8         2         1         8         2         1         8         1         2         1         8         1         2         1         8         1         2         1         8         1         2         1         8         1         2         1         8         1         2         1         8         1         2         1         8         1         2         1         8         1         2         1         8         1         2         1         8         2         1         8         2         1         8         2         1         1         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3         3

Table A-2. -- Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57 - Continued

Transing Transition	Z Z	sample No.	2	0		, -	-4						Carly and the		)		2	מעלוו	Semipre No.	5		Š		1		3
by centi-	Pa	Pavlof Bay	3ay			Ü	rpe ]	Cape Lutke	6)		_	East	An	cho	East Anchor Cove-	/e z	Ca	Cape Lutke	utke			Iz	Izembek Bay	oek	Вау meter			•									Ikatan Bay	an B	ay											•
group		July 20-23,	23,	1955	55	3	ne l	June 18-22, 1956	19	- 1	- 1	June 23, 1956	23,	19	26		, I	June 25,	- 1	1956		5	June 28-29, 1956	28-	9, 1	926
(mm.)											ě	and age	3ge
	Male	le		Fen	Female	M	ale		Fe	Female		Male			Female	ale	Male	le		Fer	Female	X	Male		F	Female
	3	4 5	3	4	5	3	4	5	3 4	5		3 4	4 5	3	4	5	31	4	5 3	3   4	5	3	4	2	, k	4 5
505	2								_				_									[1, ]
515	-		_							-					2		1	1							_
525			_	_					├	 								-	_						-	-
535		2	_				-		 	-	_	-	-	_	2			-	_						$\vdash$	-
545	-	-		2			-		2	-			_		9	_	-	2	-	8			-		-	-
555		2	Ľ	_	-				-	-			_	_	3			4	-	12	I		_		$\vdash$	5
565		_				-	-		2	-	-	4	4	_	2	-		4		1			7		$\vdash$	6
575		-	L	4			0	_	-	$\vdash$	-	.	5		7			3	$\vdash$	8	ī	L	5			10
585	T	2	ļ	9	-		3		3			01	_	L	7			4	-	5			10		$\vdash$	01
595			L	4			7	_	2	_	H	7	2	_			$\vdash$	 	_	_		L	9	1		9
909		7	L	2			Г	-	_	-		7				1	Н	3	1				8			7
615		7		3			3	7	_	_		(,	3					7	_	L			6	1		4
625		7	L	-			7			-		-	2		1								9			1 3
635		2	_	二				1				2						1					3		_	_
645			_						_			1	1 1			1			1						_	1
655		_		二					_		_							1
999		2	_	_						_		-														_
675			_	_					_		-	-
685															1				1
969		$\vdash$	_									Manage						1	_
705																										-
715												-						$\dashv$								$\dashv$
725		-						-	-	_	-	CHO-FI	_	_				_
735		-	_					$\vdash$		_							-	_	-						_
745		-	L	L					L	_		-							-	_
755	H	H	Ц	Ц			П	Н	Н	H	H	Н	Ц					H	Н							$\dashv$
500			_						H	-		range (F						H	$\vdash$	_
759			Ц
Total	5 /	0 116	١	76		1		-			-		-					_			•				-	,

Table A-2. --Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57 - Continued

No. 65	k Bay	, 1956	1	Female	3 4 5					1	2	3	4	3	2	2																		0 0 17 0
Sample No.	Izembek Bay	July 17,		Male	3, 4 5		-	-				3		-	5	_	-		-										-	-				0, 15
5. 64	3ay	1956		Female	3 4 5				1	2	9	3	10	9	5	4	2	1													-57			0 40 0
Sample No.	Izembek Bay	July 16, 1		Male	3 4 5		-			4	1 3	1	1 5	6	1	5	2	-	1															4:33 01
0. 63	Bay	, 1956		Female	3 4 5		1		1 5	5	14	2 17	23	31	24 1	21	6 1	2	1		_													3 151 2
Sample No.	Izembek Bay	July 9,-13,	age	Male	3 4 5			P-2, ye	# jane	1, 4	3	1574K	1, 17, 1	122	1, 23 ; 1	25 1	97	7 2		3 3						٠٠٠	-	P				· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	r.	3 145 9
0. 62	or Cove-	a-5, 1956	Sex and	Female	3 4 5	1	2	-1	7	1 6	3	13	6	2	6 1 1	1 1	2		1	escare. N												44(30		1 60 3
Sample No.	East Anchor Cove-	July 3-5,		Male	3 4 5	1		1	1 2	2	9	9	9	7	8	4	9 1	2 1	1 1		1		-			E Jednou	- draw	a Janta						2 56 3
. 61	or Cove-	956		Female	3 4 5			1 4	1 3	4	2	2	7	5	4	1		1								a ready:								2 38 0
Sample No.	East Anchor Cove-	June 30, 1956		Male	5		kanna			2	1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	1 4 1	1 3	5	4	3	6 1	1 2	1 1 1		1													2 32 2
Length	by centi-	group	(mm.)			505	515	525	535	545	555	565	575	585	595	605	615	625	635	645	655	999	675	685	. 569	705	715	725	735	745	755	500	759	Total

Table A-2. -- Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57 - Continued

Length	Sa	Sample No.	Š	٥ ٥		-	Sam	ole	o Z	õ		ñ	Sample No.	ے او		000		Sa	Sample No.	0 2 0	. 0	_	ñ	sample No.	-		2
by centi-	Ize	Izembek Bay	K B	ay			Izembek Bay	hek	Ва	>		ц	Pavlof Bay	f B	зy			Ize	Izembek Bay	k B	ay		Iz	Izembek Bay	bek	Вау meter	Jul	July 18,		1956			July 19,	19,	1956	9			July 19,		1956	9		Jul	July 20,		1956			July 23,		1956	٠.0
(mm.)						-					Sex	and age	age							-
	X <sub>a</sub>	Je	_	Fer	Female	-	Male			Female		Σ	Male			Female	ıle	Male	Je	$\vdash$	F.	Ferma le		Male	e		Female
	3 4	-	3	3 4	5	H	3 4	5	3	4	2	3	4	2	3	4	5	3	4	5	3 4	4 5	3	4	5	3	4
505						/ 1 L						5						-1		-	1
515					_	-		_				_	1.1			a dora				_
525			-				_	_								2.00						Į	(California)	1			1
535			-			-	Ξ	_	-1	Ξ		_				Dathar			_	$\vdash$	 	ng2 = 4		-			1
545		2	F		_	L	_	_		2			2	_						-		3				$\vdash$	-
555		-	-	9	L	-	5	_		2									3	-		2					3
565		6	F	4	L		1 2	L		3			2			7				$\vdash$	Ļ	4 ->~		3
575		-	-	4		-	3			12			1			3			Z		1	. 2	1	1		Ī	3
585		4	-	7	-	L	4			9			3			1			10			9		7			9
595		80	-	9	-	-	9			3			1			1			6			7 }		6
605		7	-	3		L	7			4			4			3	1		4			-		5			7
615		60	-	2		-	3			2	_11		2						1			3		3	1		5
625		-	-	_	_	-	_			7				-					2	1	-			3			2
635		-	-		_	_	1			П		27	1						7			orn.		-
645		2	-	~	_		3						-				1			1		parties i		m			-1
655		-	-	_	_										A COURT							AKS 4404 ·
999			-		_	-	-	L											-		Person (	1935  -(1
675		-	-	L	_	-		_							10°C					-
685		-	-		_	L									(					-
695			H		L	-	_					ù,							$\Box$	$\dashv$
705		-	-																	-	-						7
715			-			H		_								d			$\dashv$	$\dashv$	_
725			-		L	L	_	-					- VO							-
735			-		_	_		_					-		L
745		-	-	Ц				_													-		_
755		-	+	-	4	-	-	-							1				-#	╫	$\parallel$	+	4	$\perp \!\!\! \downarrow$		$\parallel$	#
500			H		Ц	_	_						-						-	-	$\dashv$		_
759			+	1	4	-	_	_							Ī.				1		4	_		_
Total	0	39		2 35	3		2 36	_		38	0	23	116	0	0	71	2	6	35	6	78 6	0	~	23	-	~	20

Table A-2. -- Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57 - Continued

Length	Sample No.	je Z	0.0		_	Sample No.	יייי	5	1		;		in a diamo		,	_	Contribute 119:	, ,		•	=				!
by centi-	Izembek Bay	ek l	Зау			Pavlof Bay	of B	ay			й —	vlo	Pavlof Bay	>			Izen	Izembek Bay	Вау			Cape Lutke	Lut	ke meter	July 24.	4.	1956		west states	July	27,	1956	9		Ju	July 30,	. 0	1956			July 30,	30,	1956	9	et plate (Tax-et	June	- 20	20-21,	1957	7
(mm.)										Sex		and age	e													-
	Male		F	Female	-	Male			Female	ale	M	Male		Ē	Female	$\dashv$	Male	- 1		Female	ale	Male	le	-	띫	E
	3 4	5	ب س	5	-	3 4	. 5	3	4	5	3	4	5	3	4 5	-	3 4	5	3	4	2	m	4	2	8	4
505					-	-					4			1	_	1	$\dashv$	-			7		+	+	4	$\dashv$
ر د	-		-	_	-	-	_					1			1						=	-			7	-1
2	-		+		+	-	-				-	3		2	7	$\vdash$		1							7	7
, L	-	1	+	-	+	-	-				7	2			3	 	-	-				1			-	5
) r	-	1	+	+	+	+	-	2	2			2			3		2	-		7			7		1 4	4
7 1	-	1	+	2	+	14	-		7			9		$\vdash$	2	-	3	_		5		1	2	1		5
l r	+	T	+	2	+	12	-		7			3			4			_		1		1	2			5
· ·	9	1	1	5	+	3	1		4	-		E			9	-	-	3		1			3		1	4
5	╁	1	+	5	+	4	-		2			4		-	8	-	1	3		7	1		7	7		7
5.	9		t	10 2	+	9	-		0			E			2	H	-	3		6			6	7	-	_
55	2	I	1	9	-	-	-		2					-	2			5		8			7	m	4	4
5	5		-	1	-	7	-		2			3		H	-		$\prod$	8		3	1	1	-1	_	$\dashv$	7
625	3		-	-	-	-	_		1			7		$\forall$	_		-	3				1	m	7	-	1.
35	-			1		7			1					+	$\dashv$	+	+						+	_	+
53	2				H	2			1					+	+	+	+	_	$\prod$				+	$\dagger$	+	T
35	-													7	+	+	$\dashv$	$\dashv$					+	+	+	1
55														+	-	+	-	+	]				1	$\dagger$	+	$\Box$
75					-		-							-	-	+	+	$\dashv$					+	†	+	T
35					-									-	-	+	$\dashv$	$\dashv$					1	1	+	$\neg$
75														+	+	+	$\dashv$	+					+	$\dagger$	+	Т
)5														+	+	+	+	+					1	$\dagger$	+	T
15	-		-											+	$\dashv$	$\dashv$	-	-					1	1	+	1
25		-	-	_	-	_	_							+	-	+	+	+					1	+	+	Ţ
35			-	-	$\vdash$									+	-	-								1	+	Т
745				-	$\vdash$			-						+	+	+	+	+	$\prod$				1	+	+	Т
55			-	H	$\dashv$		-	-							+	+	#	+					1	#	╫	T
500			-	_	-									_	$\dashv$		$\dashv$	_							+
759			H		$\vdash \mid$	-	Н		-							+	+	+	ľ	1	,	I	ç	1	+	1
,	Ì		ľ						1									•	_	_	•		۰		,	Ų

Table A-2. --Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57 - Continued

ı		2		lale	5	1	1				1	-		-	-	7	m	m	-	Ì	7	-											2
80	>	1957		Female	4	+	1	1	1	†	=	7	٥	7	3	2	3	-	7									$\perp$					5	-
	Izembek Bay	17,			ش			Ī	7									_				_	_	4	4	-	$\downarrow$	+	$\perp$	+	$\downarrow$	+	+-	7
le l	bek	16-			5										_	3		2	7		7				$\perp$	1			4	_	$\downarrow$	4	-12	71
Sample No.	eml	July 16-17,		Male	4		Ī	7		-	-]	-		7	4	4	3	3		7	7				$\perp$	4			$\downarrow$	4	$\downarrow \downarrow$	╣.	-1:	2
Sa	Iz	J.		Σ	3					T					1											$\perp$	$\downarrow$	1	4	4	$\downarrow$	4	1	7
-	۸e	1957		lle	5					T				3	2	4	4	5	3		1						İ	l				-	5	23
6	St. Catherine Cove			Female	4		$\dashv$	+	+,	7	4	~	9	6	9	4	6	3							+	$\dagger$	$\dagger$	+	+	$\dagger$	$\dagger$	7	mre v	20
6.	rine	1 12				-	ᆉ	$\dashv$	$\dashv$	$\dashv$	-	-	-	-											+	$\dagger$	$\dagger$	1	$\dagger$	+	$\dagger$	+	-	=
Sample No.	the	and			5	1	7	$\dashv$	7	-				2	2	3	4	7	1	7	9				7	1	1	1	7	1	#	1		23
npl	Ca	July 8		le.	4	+	-	$\dashv$	+	=	m	-	7	3	8	6	3	9	9	4	1	2			ᆉ	+	$\dagger$	$\dagger$	$\dashv$	+	$\dagger$	_	-	21
Sar	St.	Jul		Mal	3		_	-	7	-	_	7	_	1		-	_		-	-	_			Н		+	+	+	+	+	$\dagger$	$\dashv$	1	ις.
-				е			-		$\dashv$	$\dashv$	$\dashv$					-		-		-						*	None	+	-	-	-#	+	1
				Femal	5			1	4	_				1	3		5	3	3	2		2	_			4	4	-	_	4	$\parallel$	$\dashv$		1 22
78	>	1957		$\mathbf{F}^{\mathbf{e}_{\mathbf{i}}}$	4				-			2	4	6	~	6	_	-	-	_	_	_	_	1		4	-	_	4	4	4			1 34
No.	Ba				3		-	-	-					_	_	-		4,		4	2		_	-		-	$\dashv$	$\dashv$	-	-	$\parallel$	-	_	_
ple	bek	3-9,	age	e	5	2			-	_	- Eusten		_	4	2	9	5 2	ν. Α	5	2 4	2		_	-		-	-	-		$\dashv$	$-\parallel$		_	8 17
Sample No.	Izembek Bay	July	and a	Male	3 4		-			1 12	- 94 4		luttu di	7	THE P	7/2 4/7		-	-	, ,	-	-	-	-		$\dashv$	+	-	_	-	$-\parallel$			3 38
S	 		1 10	_	(")	-1	490.			_					_	_	_	_	_	_	L	_	_	_		_		_					1
			Sex	ale	5								7	3	7	ω	4	7	-	-	-	7						1					1	21
77		2		emale	4						AMPICS.	2	-	3	7	7	-	3	†	1	1	1												14
1	^	1957	-	Fi	3																													0
e N	Ва	30,	1		5								-	-	2	-	3	3		5	F	7	3											22
Sample No.	Ivanof Bay	e G		ale	4,							П	-	2		-	7	3	3	-			Π		-									15
Sa	Iv	Jui		X	3																													0
	il.	Opportunities		a)		N SH	421.84			) ,az w	•••		7	. 24Cil.	-		+-	200	+	-	+	-	+-	†	-				-					2
	ove	1957		Female	5	-	-			3 2	9	2 1	4	7	╁		+	+	╁	+	╁	╁	╁	+	+-					-	-	-
76	r C			Fe	3 4	-	├-	_	5	(*)			1	+-	╀	$\vdash$	+	+	╀	+	+	+	+-	+	╁	$\vdash$		-	-	_	Н	-		0 29
S.	chc	3ay -22	1	-	+-	-	╁╴		-	-	-	-		2	3		12	+	+	3	+	+	-	+	╁	-	-	-	-	-	Н	-	Ц	15
ple	t Ar	an I	3	9	4 5	$\vdash$	-	-	-	-	2		3	3	╁	╀	+-	╁	+		+	+	+	+	+	-	-	-	-	-	-	-		34 1
Sample No.	East Anchor Cove-	Ikatan Bay June 21-22.		Mal	3 4	-	+	2	2	-	+	+	+	+	+	+	+	+	+	+	+	+	+	+	+	-	-	-	+	-	H	#_	H	43
133			- 1	, ~-		+	-	-	-	-	+-	+	+	+	+	+-	+	+	+	$\dagger$	+	+	+	+	+	-	-	-	+	-	+	#-	H	H
  q	by centi-	L ·	. –																														$ \  $
Leneth	2 Ce	meter	(mm)			)5	515	25	35	45	55	55	K	85	595	55	7 2	75	635	645	37.	65	75	2 2	95	05	15	25	35	45	55	500	759	Taal
	ک ا	H 5	ئ خ			5	ιν.	5,7	ابر	ابر	12	5	ľ	اير	) [ r		, [c	ه اد	) Fc	ه∕ د	) þé	کا د	) (	ه اد	0 ا	7	11	1	7	12	11	IJΨ	ıΜ	it"

Table A-2. --Length frequencies of Alaska Peninsula chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1951-57 - Continued

L						PARKE AND	decision (	P orting	gina:n	e nomina	Product	_	-	-	-	grayers	Pr-Local	نهجم	D arking.	-			parameter 1		_	-	program	_						-
	ve-	-			ale	5																													0
81	Cove		2.5	age	Fem	4				7	2	7		-1	-	2	2	7	4	1														П	30
s Z	Anchor	Bay	1957	and		3	Н		-	7	-			1				all the same																$\prod$	9
le			25,	Sex		5										7						-	_		1				purmer:	G-MACC I					5
Sample	East	Ikatan	July		Male	4	_			_		3	_	1	7	_	3	二	4	I	3				1										24
Š	ы —	 	ب	_	Σ	8			_		I		-	3	7	_	_				-Da													$\prod$	2
Length	by centi-	meter	group	(mm.)			505	515	525	535	545	555	565	575	585	595	909	615	625	635	645	655	999	675	685	969	705	715	725	735	745	755	500	759	Total

Table A-3. Chum salmon sex ratios, Alaska Peninsula area, 1951-57

Date	Sample number and location	Male	Female	Both
1951
June 20	l - Cape Lutke	87	96	183
July 10 and 14	2 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	215	242	457
July $17$ and $20$	3 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	157	201	358
July 27-30	4 - Shumagin Islands	308	245	553
Total		767	784	1,551
Percent		49.4	50.6	100.0
1952
July 19	5 - Shumagin Islands	44	40	84
July 21	6 - Shumagin Islands	115	114	229
July 22	7 - Shumagin Islands	67	53	120
July 24	8 - Shumagin Islands	52	47	99
July 25	9 - Shumagin Islands	67	48	115
Total		345	302	647
Percent		53.3	46.7	100.0
1953
June 8-14	10 - Cape Lutke	98	101	199
June 15 and 17	11 - Cape Lutke	38	35	73
June 20	12 - Cape Lutke	66	60	126
June 20	13 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	81	73	154
June 22	14 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	67	61	128
Jume 29-30	15 - Chignik Bay	319	172	491
June 30	16 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	121	114	235
July 2	17 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	108	102	210
July 7 and 10	18 - Shumagin Islands	246	215	461
July 17	19 - Shumagin Islands	117	121	238
July 21	20 - Shumagin Islands	116	87	203
July 24	21 - Shumagin Islands	122	100	222
July 27	22 - Shumagin Islands	115	121	236
Total		1,614	1,362	2,976
Percent		54.2	45.8	100.0

Table A-3. Chum salmon sex ratios,
Alaska Peninsula area, 1951-57 -- Continued

Date	Sample number and location	Male	Female	Both
1954
June 10-20	23 - Cape Lutke	226	240	466
June 18	24 - Kujulik Bay	41	41	82
June 18-22	25 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	161	141	302
June 22	26 - Kujulik Bay	79	69	148
June 23-24	27 - Chignik Lagoon	50	40	90
June 25-27	28 - Chignik Lagoon	60	60	120
June 27	29 - Chignik Bay	60	58	118
June 30	30 - Kujulik Bay	40	40	80
July 5-9	31 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	180	115	295
July 7	32 - Aniakchak Bay	46	44	90
July 9-10	33 - Herendeen Bay	97	98	195
July 14	34 - Herendeen Bay	20	20	40
July 15	35 - Bear River	19	21	40
July 16	36 - Moller Bay	14	13	27
July 16	37 - Bear River	80	74	154
July 16	38 - Nelson Lagoon	8	12	20
July 19	39 - Bear River	20	20	40
July 24	40 - Herendeen Bay	47	40	87
July 25	41 - Nelson Lagoon	20	20	40
July 28	42 - Nelson Lagoon	19	2 1	40
5 ury 20	12 - Welson Lagoon	 		40
Total		1,287	1,187	2,474
Percent		52.0	48.0	100.0
1955
June 14-18	43 - Cape Lutke	50	36	86
June 17-21	44 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	39	44	83
June 26	45 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	16	10	26
June 29	46 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	13	15	28
July 1	47 - Izembek Bay	37	35	72
July 5		54	26
July 7	48 - Izembek Bay			8 0
July 9	49 - Izembek Bay	21	29	50
•	50 - Izembek Bay	13	22	35
July 12	51 - Izembek Bay	51	50	101
July 13	52 - Izembek Bay	44	46	90
July 13	53 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	0	0	0
July 16-20	54 - Izembek Bay	144	143	287
July 17	55 - Pavlof Bay	28	22	50
July 20-23	56 - Pavlof Bay	30	39	69
Total		540	517	1,057

Table A-3. Chum salmon sex ratios, Alaska Peninsula area, 1951-57 -- Continued

Date	Sample number and location	Male	Female	Both
1956			······································
June 18-22	57 – Cape Lutke	26	14	40
June 23	58 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	76	70	146
June 25	59 - Cape Lutke	55	63	118
June 28-29	60 – Izembek Bay	102	59	161
June 30	61 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	98	80	178
July 3-5	62 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	124	144	268
July 9-13	63 – Izembek Bay	438	305	743
July 16	64 – Izembek Bay	97	96	193
July 17	65 – Izembek Bay	17	18	35
July 18	66 – Izembek Bay	79	64	143
July 19	67 – Izembek Bay	47	4 5	92
July 19	68 - Pavlof Bay	20	19	39
July 20	69 – Izembek Bay	56	44	100
July 23	70 - Izembek Bay	70	68	138
July 24	71 - Izembek Bay	61	70	131
July 27	72 - Pavlof Bay	56	46	102
July 30	73 - Pavlof Bay	82	86	168
July 30	74 – Izembek Bay	37	48	85
Total		1,541	1,339	2,880
Percent		53.5	46.5	100.0
1957
June 20-21	75 - Cape Lutke	43	60	103
June 21-22	76 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	119	76	195
June 30	77 - Ivanof Bay	129	47	176
July 3-9	78 – Izembek Bay	111	85	196
July 8 and 12	79 - St. Catherine Cove	197	211	408
July 16-17	80 – Izembek Bay	100	84	184
July 25	81 - East Anchor Cove-Ikatan Bay	101	80	181
Total		800	643	1,443
Percent		55.4	44.6	100.0

APPENDIX

B. Biological Statistics for Chum Salmon, Kodiak Island area, 1948-51 and 1955-57

Table B-1. --Particulars of measurements and scale samples of chum salmon taken in Kodiak commercial catch, 1948-1951 and 1955-1957 (BS = Beach Seine, PS = Purse Seine, T = Trap, GN = Gill Net)

			Gear	Number o	of measurements	ements	Number	jo	scales
Date		Sample number and location	nsed	Male	Female	Total	Male	Female	Total
1948
	June 22	1 - Karluk Beach	BS	71	30	101	10	J.	15
	July 29	2 - Spiridon Bay	PS	101	105	506	87	22	52
	August 4	3 - Uyak Bay	H	102	100	202	23	56	25
	August 5	4 - Uyak Bay	H	99	89	133	56	56	52
	August 7	5 - Uyak Bay	H	86	102	200	28	30	58
	Total			437	405	842	115	120	235
1949
	July 7	6 - Olga and Moser Bays	S	09	100	160	28	22	22
	July 12 and 15	7 - Kaguyak Bay	PS	06	47	137	53	97	55
	July 16		PS	101	77	178	27	92	53
	July 25	9 - Uganik Bay	PS	100	100	200	53	59	28
	July 28	- Spiridon	PS	66	101	200	53	24	53
	July 30	11 - East Uyak Bay	H	66	101	200	23	23	46
	Total			549	526	1,075	165	155	320
1950
	July 12	12 - Raspberry Island	H	20	20	100	50	18	38
	August 3	13 - East Uyak Bay	H	83	100	183	50	19	39
	August 8	14 - Head Uyak Bay	PS	59	51	110	18	19	3
	Total			192	201	393	58	99	114

taken in Kodiak commercial catch, 1948-1951 and 1955-1957 -- Continued Table B-1. -- Particulars of measurements and scale samples of chum salmon (BS = Beach Seine, PS = Purse Seine, T = Trap, GN = Gill Net)

		Gear	Number o	Number of measurements	ments	Number	Number of scales	es
Date	Sample number and location	nsed	Male	Female	Total	Male	Female	Total
1951 August 4	15 - Uganik Bay	Т	79	59	121	19	18	37
Total			79	69	121	61	18	37
1955				;	;	Ş	;	;
July 12	16 - Spiridon Bay	PS	10	41	51	01	25	4
July 14	17 - Zachar Bay	PS	52	64	116	37	34	71
July 19	18 - Spiridon Bay	PS	84	80	164	83	77	160
July 20	19 - Spiridon Bay	PS	17	24	41	16	50	36
Total			163	209	372	146	168	314
1056
1936 13 vlul	20 - Zachar Bay	PS	42	40	82	19	18	37
July 21	21 - South Uyak Bay	PS	118	93	211	19	20	39
Total			160	133	293	38	38	76
1957
July 8	22 - South Uyak Bay	PS	33	19	25	14	16	30
July 9		PS	36	23	69	36	20	26
July 9		PS	93	85	178	17	18	35
July 23	1	PS	91	110	201	49	47	96
July 26		PS	108	128	236	35	33	89
Total			361	365	726	151	134	285

Figure B-1.--Localities where chum salmon samples were taken in Kodiak Island commercial catch, 1948-51 and 1955-57.

Table B-2. --Length frequencies of Kodiak area chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1948-51 and 1955-57.

				Female	4 5	_	_	-	3	1		2	3	3	3	2	3 1		1		-	-	-				-	_	-					9
. 5		August 77, 1948		Fer	3	-	-	-		$\vdash$	-	-		-	_		-	_		-	-	-	-	-		-	-	-	-	-	H	_	$\vdash$	3 20
Sample No. Uyak Bay		12	-		5	-	-	╀	+	+		-	-	-	-	-	_	-	-	-	-	$\vdash$	$\vdash$	$\vdash$	$\vdash$	-	┝	-	-	-	Н	-	-	4
Sample N Uyak Bay		gust		$^{\mathrm{le}}$	4		7	-	+	7	2	2	-	-	2	3	-			_	-			 			-	T	T		$  \cdot  $		$\vdash$	17
Sar Uy		Au		Male	æ,	-	-	+	-	+	-	7	-	$\vdash$	-	-	-		-	-	┢			H	-		-	-	$\vdash$	-	H	+-	+	5
		-		_		$\vdash$	-	+	+	+-	-	-	-	_	-	-	-	_	-	_			-	_	-	-	T	Γ
	,	_		Female	70	L	L	L	L	L	L	L	L	_	2	7	7	4	7	L				_	_	_		_	_	L	Ц	_	L
4		1948		Ferr	3 4		L	_		-	L	3	2	-	2	_					_	_	_	_				ļ	_	-	Н	1	-	7
Sample No. Uyak Bay		- 1			5 3		_	_		_	ļ.,	-	_		L	2 1	2	_	4		2	_	 	L	_	_	-	-	_	-	$\sqcup$	-	ļ	~
ple k B		ust		е	4	_	_	-	┼-	$\vdash$		2	2		4	1 2	2 2		1   4	_	2	_	 	Г	_		$\vdash$	-	L	$\vdash$		_	-	17
Sample N Uyak Bay		August 5,		Male	31		_	-	$\vdash$	-					_			_			-	_	_	_	_	_	L	L	_			_	_	0.14
							L		L		_	L			_								_	L								L	L
				le	2		; ;		_				-	-		2			1	2														∞
3		1948		Female	4						2	-	3	3	4	5																		∏ ∞
.02 >				[14]	3			3.00			7				7			-																3
le l Ba	•	st 4,			5																		2	1		F								5
Sample No. Uyak Bay		August	age	Male	4				-			2	7	7			1	7	1	1											}			12
S D	•		and a	2	3			_					_		7		7			er-a-sa			W, 480-23	-										9
				e	5											1			2	5	3		3					ĺ						14
			gex	Female	4		-	 			7		H	-	2	-	3	2		1	2		-	-		_	-		$\vdash$	-	H	-		13
o. 2 Bay		1948		Fe	3	-		-	-		-	-	-	-				_	_				-		2-3-	- //2	-	-	-	-	-			0
Sample No. 2 Spiridon Bay					2					-	-							_	1	1	3	7		7	-		F		F		П			=
mplirid	-	uly 29,		Male	4					-					1	2	7	1	1	4	1	2				-					H		П	14
Sa	+	3		Z	3									2				1																3
		250		o	2
			ŀ	nale	4	-		-	-	-	-	-		1	3		-		_	_			_	-	_	_		-	$\vdash$	$\vdash$	Н	-	$\vdash$	5 0
ach	0,00	1748	ا	e)	, س	-		-		-	-					_		-	_	-			-		_	-	$\vdash$	-	-	-	Н			0
No Be		- 1	-	-	2	-	-		-	-	_	-				1		$\dashv$	_	-	7	1	_			_	-	-	-				H	4
Sample No. 1 Karluk Beach	ì	June 22,		Ļ	_ 1		Messe		-		-	2	-	-	1	1	_		1	-	1	_		-					-	-	+			9
San Kai	٠			Male	2			-11	-											_					_									0
ı				Kajam,	-	_		-						ΪÝ						-					N ASS		-						-	-
Length by centi-	meter	group	(mim.)			505	515	525	535	545	555	565	575	585	595	605	615	625	635	645	655	665	675	685	695	705	715	57.	735	745	755	200	> 759	Total

Table B-2. -- Length frequencies of Kodiak arm chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1948-51 and 1955-57 -- Continued

Length by centi- meter group (mm.)		1
y centi- leter roup nm.)	sample No.		9		San	Sample No.	No.	2		Sa	Sample	e No.	8 .		S	Sample No.	le N	0.9			ami	Sample No.	{o. ]	10
roup nm.)	Olga and Moser	l Mo	ser		Ka	Kaguyak Bay	k B	ιy		K	Kiliuda	a Bay	^		4	Mush Bay	Вау	_		O 1	piri	Spiridon Bay	Bay nm.)	Bays July 7, 1	1949			Jul	ly 12	and	15,	and 15,1949	Ju	July 16,		1949			July 25,		1949			July 28,		1949
								Se	Sex and	10
	Male	F	Female	le	rd	le		Female	ale	Ŭ	Male		Female	ale	4	ંતી		Fe	Female		ુ		Fe	Female
	3 4 5	3	4	5	3 (	4	5 3	4	5	~	4	5	3 4	2	3	4	5	8	4 5	~	3.4	2	m	4
505																	-			_			+	$\dashv$
15					is Au-										-		7	_	1	*	yw			7
25			7			_							an, -	P.4				1						_
35						-		1				,	1,2 mil			May 31							_
45	1					2					7	- 194	1	landa 4			1		entry work
55	2		-			-		-					3	e-sa		1			4
65	-	-	3					5			1			arcer 1	-				2		2
75	5		4			2		2	E-107	- Section 1	7	2.	2	) The same		1			1		_		_	_
85	4:2		5			e.	~	3	1	HEM PER	3	1		العاربة	_				2		1			_
95	4		5			4	ا	ω		-10	3	5.2	3	2 3		2		_	3 1 1					7
)5	2		-	-		3		7			-	-	7	i · 4		3	- 10		$\frac{2}{1}$		_
.5	-1		7			7	1	3	T PER CO		7	- 3	3	7		2	auc au		1 } 1					1
.5			7						~	-24.04	7		3	one a		1		#* * -	4 2		_		-	7
35	3				-	7						_ 1		m7387		n: 144	2		in 1949			3
15	av.					2,100					-	2				4	200 W 1		1	,,,,,,	3
55												15.10		are.ev		7	L/2 cm			_	BHT-1-14	9 ]	Y mad
55	777.00					7 7	-	_		2000		8 7 x 14e		(andress)							lana ana	2	200	2
75						-		-					_	a comple	- wester		7			_	- Sarphi		r143-74	_
35		-					-	and more				  -	_	was a			A				hann a	1	2.~
5							L.,							rmusik si			-11	.				7		_
50		1,5				POS			es, es la T	-				c				-
15		_				·~.	ļ	-0		103 4					e r-seq					- 1	_			-
25			-			. ,								-774				*****
35								_		e march			_	Parame				narena	-			~ ~		-
15				 						12 W 75 w									_		-			-
55						21			New N	,								-		$-\parallel$	$\parallel$			╣
00								100		i reproduce					2							-
759							-			~									-					- #
Total	0 23 5	1	25	1	0	22	0   2	0 21	4	0	15	12	0 22	4	. 3	120	9	3	20 6		6	61	0	10   14

Table B-2. --Length frequencies of Kodiak area chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1948-51 and 1955-57

Sample No. 11		Sam	ple	S	71		sample No.	ole N		1.5	מ	Sample No.	Ie Z	o. 14			sample No.	s Z	15
East Uyak Bay	harr o pro-	Ras	pber	ry I	Raspberry Island		Uyak Bay	Βa}	_		ر;	Uyak Bay	Вау			gD	Uganik Bay	Вау
July 30, 1949	erra Mets	July	. 15,	1950			August	st 3,	, 1950	50	4	August 8,	st 8,	1950	0		August 4,		1951
					S	Sex and age	d ag	63
4	a.	Mal	e	Íτι	Female	+	Male		Fe	Female	-	Male		Fen	Female	Male	le	14	Female
4 5 3 4	1 5	3 . 4	4 5	3	415		3 4	5	3	4 5	3	4	5	3 4	5	3	4 5	3 (	4
			_			-				_					-	n transf		_
			_						-	-		 			-	egelt e e	-	-
			_				_		-			_			-	ensi Jecon	-
			_				-		-	-	_	_				Pos Sc	_	->~	P ZM-H
			_						7	-		-		-	_				CO-Silv
- Long				naves						1								- OFF	aci aqoy
1 2			-		-				-	-1		_		-	2				Mr. Jan
1 1 1 1	2				-1		-		-	-	DÇMEA	3		-	2	-iJrgesh	- 1,		e-the He
3 3	~		21		7					1	4772.1	-		-	_	er ercha	34971	nauesia
2 1 2	1		27		1			-	_	2				-	3		7	ক্রিক ক্র ক্তর
1 1						- Friday	1	100	_	4		7				Çiv,31		is vice	et 190mi
1 }	9				3 1	W-Per	3	2			PLO.ES				$1 \mid 1$	r,uscad	-	oreid	77. 4
3 I I I	Call Vol				1 3	3	7			Z)	HE SHOOL	2	1		3	enni Lura		b.jorenije.	1,
	2		2 1 1		7	ri-er's		ACM'T	_	1 1 4	-Ess	7	-	7	2 2	200834	CON-	useska	2
2 2 1					1	Printed (	3		_	1	7/744		1		Ero and P	-	3	or says	. See
passe m	and the same of		7			ويه خارط		1	-	~ >40	MICLAN		1		h+021	(T-0), (et )	CALLED TO MA	missa
AMP I			er-comm			e ard	3	-	->-		07-JB1-S					en C, ad		cto;	-
40.4			I			. * 1837	_	-	-	6 803 3	22704		1			and part	2 ]
(Com) 29						, , , , eq				мине?		- Market	1		- 4	on one	1	ro, was
Francisco de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de la constitución de			maraur e					2015		CL-YOUNG		is, enteres				e de la company		11 80 70
Out						i r-w	_	21 Table				rowane.				port 31		and the same of	Hacon et
		-2003	_			*	L					-					1		-
20,400,10		(5.774 T				- 0.44								-
этры			_				_		_	_					.*4
		-1793	-	e tendi i										~-				Part (Sport a wn I															-
			_	DOMESTIC ST		-					-
					H				-
		•	1	(	9								ŀ					١,	ŀ

Table B-2. --Length frequencies of Kodiak area chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1948-51 and 1955-57 --Continued

Sex and age Female Male Female Male Female Male Female  1
Female       Male       Female       Male         5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       9       4       5       3       4       5       9       4       5       9       4       5       9       7       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1
4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5
2 2 1 1 1 2 3 1 2 2 1 1 1 1 1 3 1 1 2 3 1 2 2 1 1 1 1
2 5 7 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1
1
1
2   1   1   1   1   1   1   1   1   1
2   1   1   1   1   1   1   1   1   1
1
3       2       1       1       1       3       1       3       1       3       1       3       1       3       1       3       1       1       3       1       2       1       1       1       3       1       2       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1
3       2       1       1       3       1       3       1       3       1       2       2       2       2       2       10       2       10       2       10       2       10       2       10       2       10       2       10       2       10       2       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10 </td
3       2       1       3       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       10       1       1       2       2       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10 <t< td=""></t<>
3       2       1       1       1       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       10       2       10       2       10       10       10       2       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       10       <
3       6       1       1       1       2       10         1       1       7       3       1       2       1       1         3       1       7       3       1       2       1       2       1         4       1       5       4       1       1       1       1       2       1       1         5       3       4       6       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1
1       1       1       3       1       2       1       2       1       2       1       2       1       2       1       2       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1
3       9       2       1       2       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       2       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1
4       1       5       4       1       3       1       2         8       6       4       6       1       1       1       1       1         4       1       3       7       1       1       1       1       1         7       1       3       7       1       2       1       1       1         6       6       6       6       1       1       1       1       1         4       2       2       1       1       1       1       1         4       2       1       1       1       1       1         1       1       1       1       1       1         4       2       1       1       1       1       1         1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1         1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1
8       6       4       6       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1
6 5 3 2 4 4 4 2 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1
4       1       3       7       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1
3       4       5       2       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1
7     1     2       6     6     1     1       2     2     1     1       4     2     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1     1     1       1     1
6 6 6 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1
2     2       4     2       1     1       1     1       1     1       1     1       1     1       1     1       1     1       1     1       2     1       3     1       4     1       5     1       6     1       7     1       8     1       9     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1       10     1

Table B-2. --Length frequencies of Kodiak area chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1948-51 and 1955-57

	1	>			Female	5		_	_	$\downarrow$	1	$\perp$	1	7	+	H	7	2	-	en Process	-	$\downarrow$	上	-	-	igdash	$\perp$	-	$\perp$	$\perp$	+	+	#	+
	25	Ba	57		en	4		_	_	_	_	$\perp$	上	1	m	10	15	10	0	4	_	_	-	L	_		Ļ	_		-	-			,,
	80.	ak	1957			3		$\perp$		$\perp$			_	$\perp$	$\perp$		-	3/10		3			_	_			L		Ļ	$\downarrow$	_	$\downarrow$	$\downarrow \!\!\! \downarrow$	$\downarrow$	_
	le I	U	23,			5												L	上	L	7	L	L	H	7	Tore		The same of	ALLO	20.00			$\downarrow \!\!\! \downarrow$	$\perp$
	Sample No.	South Uyak Bay	July 23,		Male	4				$\mathbf{I}$	floor			上	1	7	5	5	l.	m	$\infty$	5	F		4
	Sa	$^{\circ}$	Ĵα		Ž	3		T		T	T				T	Γ																	T	T	Hemanaga Lavis (Aug	inger on care		e	5					T				Τ		3	ľ
	24	ay			Female	4		-	+	+			स्त	7	7	-	-			-	-	-	-					-		+	+	$\dagger$	$\dagger$	+	-
		South Uyak Bay	1957		Fe	3	-		$\dagger$	$\dagger$		+	T	T	T																	1	1		~
	Sample No.	Uya				5											_			-	-	7		-	-				F						_
	mpl	uth	July 9,		Male	4							F			3	-	-			-	-
	Sa	So	Ju		Mã	3				T						3.34											100								-
0					le	5			+	1	1	T	-		T				_	4		2	-				rane	O parent				T		T
Continued	23				Female	4		-		+	$\dagger$		+	T	+		-		2	-		-	-							+	+	十	+	+	- onti		Bay	157		Fe	3				+	+	-			-		4	-								-					+-	+	$\dagger$	+	-
آدّ	Ż	r B	15		7	5			                                     	┢	+	+-	+	+-	-	-					_	-	-	-	o Referen		iic w		-	-	-	+	#	-	٦
'	Sample No.	Zachar	July 9, 1957	and age	le.	4				-	-		7	-	F	-	9	4"	7	3	3	3	7	3		Ţ		-1					2	-	6
	San	Za	Jul	and	Male	3				1	✝												-	W		-	E-710	130	agu (pa	793	*	3			1
	_			3ex		-																					-								1
		 		3,	Female	5			_	_	$\perp$			-	-			-						-					-		Cher	-	L
- 1	22	Вау			em	4									7	_	3	_	-	7	1	7								L			L	L
-	Sample No.	South Uyak Bay	July 8, 1957		-	3
	]e	D J	8,		- į	5																	1	1	-1				Ţ
	rmp	outh	T		Male	41								-			1			1	1	1	2	1	-
	Š	й	5		Σ	3																					Particular
	_			 		2																_												Н	H
	_	,			٦	4	+	_	_	H	-	_			1		2	4	1			2		$\dashv$	_	$\dashv$		$\dashv$	_	-	-	$\vdash$	-	H	H
- 1	. 71	South Uyak Bay	1956		Fer	·	+		$\vdash$	_	-					1		_			-			$\dashv$	$\dashv$	-		ᅱ	_	-	-	┝		Н	H
	ž	ſyaŀ	7	ŀ		2	$\dashv$	_	_	_	-	-	_	_			-	-		┪	_		-	-	_	┪	-			_	$\vdash$	Н	-	Н	1
ŀ	ple	44	, 21		ŀ	4	+		-	 					-1		4	4	2				7	7							┢	H		Н	t
	Sample No.	Soul	July 21,		ેલ [	8	$\dashv$			_	-			_			4	`			_	$\dashv$	-	$\dashv$		-	-	-	_		 	Н	-	Н	ł
	-	-	- 1		- 1	+	+			_							-		-	$\dashv$	-	$\dashv$	+	+	+	+	_	-				Н	-	H	ļ
	Length	by centi- meter	group	(mm.)
	ē	y ne	ro	ä			505	15	25	35	545	55	65	5	85	3	13	21	22	32	12	12	5	2	35	و ا	2	2 [	2	5	5	15	18	759	ı

53

Table B-	Table B-2Length frequencies of Kodiak area chum salmon by age (in years) and sex, 1948-
	Continued
Length	Sample No. 26
by centi-	by centi-   Spiridon Bay

						5																											,
26			7	age	emal	4									2	3	9	3	5	9	4		2	2
	Bay		1957		Ĕ	3							-				-	7374		ALC: 4	6-38-10	STANSE I
e Z	on		26,	and		ις.		$\vdash$																1	1
Sample No.	Spiridon Bay		July 2	Sex	Male	4	.~~									4	-1	1	5	3	3	7	3	3	7
Sa	Sp		Ju		ž	3					-			-			-	-	-															L
Length	by centi-	meter	group	(mm.)			505	515	525	535	545	555	565	575	585	595	909	615	625	635	645	655	999	675	685	969	705	715	725	735	745	755	500	0.26
								-	-							· : 4	-																V	1

Table B-3. Chum salmon sex ratios for the Kodiak area, 1948-51 and 1955-57

Date	Sample number and location	Male	Female	Both
1948
June 22	1 - Karluk Beach	70	30	100
July 29	2 - Spiridon Bay	101	73	174
August 4	3 - Uyak Bay	85	100	185
August 5	4 - Uyak Bay	64	68	132
August 7	5 - Uyak Bay	65	102	167
Total		385	373	758
Percent		50.8	49.2	100.0
1949
July 7	6 - Olga and Moser Bays	36	100	136
July 12 and 15	7 - Kaguyak Bay	90	46	136
July 16	8 - Kiliuda Bay	100	69	169
July 25	9 - M ush Bay	100	88	188
July 28	10 - Spiridon Bay	50	32	82
July 30	11 - East Uyak Bay	93	100	193
Total		469	435	904
Percent		51.9	48.1	100.0
1950
July 15	12 - Rasberry Island	65	47	112
August 3	13 - East Uyak Bay	83	100	183
August 8	14 - Head Uyak Bay	52	66	118
Total		200	213	413
Percent		48.4	51.6	100.0
1951
August 4	15 - Uganik Bay	62	75	137
Total		62	75	137
Percent		45.3	54.7	100.0

Table B-3. Chum salmon sex ratios for the Kodiak area, 1948-51 and 1955-57 -- Continued

Date	Sample number and location	Male	Female	Both
1955
July 12	16 - Spiridon Bay	10	26	36
July 14	17 - Z achar Bay	52	64	116
July 19	18 - Spiridon Bay	84	80	164
July 20	19 - S piridon Bay	17	24	41
Total		163	194	357
Percent		45.7	54.3	100.0
1956
July 13	20 - Zachar Bay	67	62	129
July 21	21 - South Uyak Bay	115	91	206
Total		182	153	335
Percent		54.3	45.7	100.0
1957
July 8	22 - South Uyak Bay	35	19	54
July 9	23 - Zachar Bay	38	24	62
July 9	24 - South Uyak Bay	93	85	178
July 23	25 - South Uyak Bay	90	108	198
July 26	26 - Spiridon Bay	113	132	245
Total		369	366	735
Percent		50.2	49.8	100.

APPENDIX

C. Biological Statistics for Chum Salmon, Prince William Sound area, 1952-58

Prince William Sound commercial fishery, 1952-1953 and 1956-1958 (BS = Beach Seine, PS = Purse Seine, T = Trap, GN = Gill Net) Table C-1. --Particulars of measurements and scale samples taken in the

			Gear	Number	Number of measurements	ements	Number	Number of scales	es
Date		Sample number and location	nsed	Male	Female	Total	Male	Female	Total 1952
	August 6	l - Montague Island	L	99	95	148	20	18	38
	August 12		PS	82	100	182	19	20	39
	August 12	3 - Unakwik - Port Fidalgo	PS	20	20	40	20	18	38
	Total			158	212	3.70	69	56	115
1953
	July 15	4 - Montague Strait - Knight Island	d T	74	101	175	20	19	39
	July 21	1
		Island	H	94	66	193	19	18	37
	August 3	6 - Eshamy Bay	S	35	90	85	19	20	39
	August 5	7 - Montague Strait	H	86	100	198	70	18	38
	August 5	8 - Port Chalmers - Knight
		Island Pass	PS	50	74	124	18	18	36
	Total			351	424	775	96	93	189
1956
	June 25	9 – Galena Bay	BS	S	0	'n	0	0	0
	June 27	10 - Unakwik Inlet	PS	0	4	4	0	*	4
	July 10	11 - Port Wells	PS	50	90	100	18	19	3.7
	July 10-11	12 - MacLeod Harbor-Point Helen	H	50	50	100	18	16	34
	July 16-17	13 - Montague Strait - Knight
		Island Passage	H	32	42	74	0	0	0
	July 19	14 - Port Wells	PS	46	42	88	19	19	38
	July 19	15 - Valdez Arm	PS	15	16	31	14	15	53
						-	_

Table C-1. --Particulars of measurements and scale samples taken in the Prince William Sound commercial fishery, 1952-1953 and 1956-1958 -- Continued (BS = Beach Seine, PS = Purse Seine, T = Trap, GN = Gill Net)

			Gear	Number of measurements	f measure	ments	Numbe	Number of scales	les
Date		Sample number and location	nsed	Male	Female	Total	Male	Female	Total
1956	continued
	July 20	16 - MacLeod Harbor	H	0	0	0	18	19	37
	July 20	17 - Valdez Arm	PS	31	38	69	0	0	0
	July 24	18 - Montague Strait - Knight
		Island Passage	H	74	74	148	18	20	38
	August 2	19 - Hinchinbrook Island - Ports
		Gravina and Fidalgo	H	0	0	0	20	19	39
	August 3	20 - New England Fish Company -
		Ellamar	H	20	47	26	19	20	39
	August 3	21 - Valdez - Port Fidalgo	PS	48	50	86	20	20	40
	August 1 - 4	22 - Granite Bay Point	H	23	20	43	20	18	38
	Total			424	433	857	184	189	373
1957
	July 8	23 - Point Helen	H	53	46	66	0	0	0
	July 9	24 - Point Helen	H	13	13	97	0	0	0
	July 11	25 - Culross Island	PS	5	4	6	0	0	0
	July 13 - 14	26 - Porcupine Point	H	25	17	45	0	0	0
	July 14	27 - Point Freemantle	Ħ	45	25	02	0	0	0
	July 21	28 - Bainbridge Point	H	12	80	70	0	0	0
	July 22	29 - North Twin Bay	PS	2	7	4	0	0	0
	July 23	30 - Point Elrington	PS	4	2	11	0	0	0
	July 26	31 - Montague Strait - Knight
		Island Passage	H	48	51	66	19	19	38
	July 28	32 - MacLeod Harbor	Ţ	24	27	51	0	0	0
	July 31	33 - Kiniklik Point	H	9	0	9	0	0	0

Table C-1, --Particulars of measurements and scale samples taken in the Prince William Sound commercial fishery, 1952-1953 and 1956-1958 -- Continued (BS = Beach Seine, PS = Purse Seine, T = Trap, GN = Gill Net)

Date  1957 continued  August 3 34 - Gravina Point  August 4 35 - Porcupine Point  August 10-11 37 - Bainbridge Point  August 12 38 - MacLeod Harbor  August 13 39 - Zaikof Bay  Total  1958  July 6 40 - Culross Island  July 7 41 - Point Helen  July 9 42 - Point Helen  July 12 44 - Johnstone Point  July 16 45 - Point Elrington  July 16 46 - Point Elrington  July 20 48 - Point Freemantle  July 20 48 - Point Freemantle  July 20 48 - Point Freemantle  July 20 50 - Kiniklik Point  July 20 50 - Kiniklik Point  July 30 51 - Point Freemantle  August 3 52 - Johnstone Point  August 6 53 - Point Elrington  August 7-8 54 - Point Elrington		Gear	Number of measurements	measure	ments	IMMENDE	Number of scales	00
August 3  August 4  August 4  August 8  August 10-11 37 - Bainbri August 12  August 12  August 13  August 13  August 13  August 13  August 13  August 13  August 13  August 13  August 13  August 13  August 13  August 13  August 13  August 13  August 13  August 20  August 6  August 6  August 6  August 7-8  August E-Point E-Point E-Doint E-Point E-Doint E-Point e number and location	used	Male	Female	Total	Male	Female	Total
August 3 34 - Gravina August 4 35 - Porcupi August 10-11 37 - Bainbri August 12 38 - MacLeo August 13 39 - Zaikof 1  July 6 40 - Culross July 9 43 - Point H July 9 43 - Point H July 12 44 - Johnsto July 16 46 - Point E July 16 46 - Point E July 16 46 - Point E July 16 48 - Point E July 20 48 - Point E July 20 48 - Point E July 20 50 - Kiniklib July 23 52 - Johnsto August 3 52 - Johnsto August 6 53 - Point H August 7-8 54 - Point E
August 4 35 - Porcupi August 18 36 - Point E August 10-11 37 - Bainbri August 12 38 - MacLeo August 13 39 - Zaikof 1  July 6 40 - Culross July 9 41 - Point H July 9 43 - Point F July 12 44 - Johnsto July 16 45 - Point E July 16 46 - Point E July 16 46 - Point E July 16 46 - Point E July 16 46 - Point E July 20 48 - Point E July 20 48 - Point E July 20 50 - Kiniklib July 23 50 - Kiniklib July 24 55 - Johnsto August 6 53 - Point H August 6 53 - Point H		H	97	11	37	0	0	0
August 8 36 - Point E  August 10-11 37 - Bainbri  August 12 38 - MacLeo  August 13 39 - Zaikof 1  39 - Zaikof 1  July 6 40 - Culross  July 8 42 - Point H  July 9 43 - Point H  July 12 44 - Johnsto  July 16 45 - Point E  July 16 46 - Point E  July 16 46 - Point E  July 20 48 - Point E  July 20 48 - Point E  July 20 50 - Kinikliy  July 20 50 - Kinikliy  July 30 51 - Point F  August 3 52 - Johnsto  August 6 53 - Point H  August 7-8 54 - Point E	rcupine Point	Ħ	61	54	115	0	0	0
August 10-11 37 - Bainbri August 12 38 - MacLeo August 13 39 - Zaikof 1  Total  July 6 40 - Culross July 8 42 - Point H  July 12 44 - Johnsto July 14 45 - Point E  July 16 46 - Point E  July 16 46 - Point E  July 20 48 - Point E  July 20 48 - Point E  July 20 50 - Kiniklih  July 20 50 - Kiniklih  July 20 51 - Point F  July 20 52 - Johnsto  August 3 52 - Johnsto  August 6 53 - Point E	int Elrington	H	13	17	30	0	0	0
August 12 38 - MacLeo August 13 39 - Zaikof 1  Total  July 6 40 - Culrose July 8 41 - Point H July 9 43 - Point H July 12 44 - Johnsto July 14 45 - Point E July 16 46 - Point E July 16 48 - Point E July 20 48 - Point E July 20 50 - Kiniklib July 20 51 - Point E July 20 52 - Johnsto August 3 52 - Johnsto August 6 53 - Point E August 7-8 54 - Point E	inbridge Point	۲	15	59	44	0	0	0
August 13       39 - Zaikof 1         Total       40 - Culrose 41         July 6       41 - Point H 42         July 8       42 - Point H 42         July 9       43 - Point H 43         July 12       44 - Johnsto H 50         July 14       45 - Point E 50         July 16       47 - Point E 50         July 20       48 - Point E 50         July 20       48 - Point E 50         July 20       48 - Point E 50         July 20       50 - Kiniklib         July 30       51 - Point E 50         July 30       51 - Point F 50         August 6       53 - Point H 50         August 7-8       54 - Point E 50	cLeod Harbor	PS	7	0	7	0	0	0
Total  July 6  40 - Culross  July 7  41 - Point H  July 8  42 - Point H  42 - Point F  July 12  44 - Johnsto  July 14  45 - Point E  July 15  46 - Point E  July 16  47 - Point E  July 20  48 - Point E  July 20  July 20  August 3  52 - Johnsto  August 6  53 - Point F	ikof Bay	BS	-	0	7	0	0	0
July 6			355	311	999	19	19	38
6 40 - Culross 41 - Point H 8 42 - Point H 9 43 - Point H 9 43 - Point F 12 44 - Johnsto 14 45 - Point E 15 46 - Point E 16 47 - Point E 20 48 - Point E 20 48 - Point E 20 50 - Kiniklih 30 51 - Point F 8t 3 52 - Johnsto 8t 46 53 - Point H 8t 55 - Johnsto 51 - Point H 8t 55 - Johnsto 51 - Point H 8t 55 - Johnsto 51 - Point H 8t 55 - Johnsto 51 - Point H 55 - Point H 65 51 - Point H
41 - Point H 42 - Point H 43 - Point F 43 - Point F 12 44 - Johnsto 14 45 - Point E 15 46 - Point E 16 47 - Point E 20 48 - Point E 21 49 - Johnsto 22 50 - Kiniklib 30 51 - Point F 23 52 - Johnsto 24 53 - Point F 25 52 - Johnsto 26 53 - Point F 27 54 - Point E 28 55 - Johnsto 28 55 - Johnsto 28 55 - Johnsto 28 55 - Johnsto 28 55 - Johnsto 28 55 - Johnsto 28 55 - Johnsto 28 55 - Johnsto 28 55 - Johnsto 28 55 - Johnsto 28 55 - Johnsto 38 55 - Johnsto 38 55 - Johnsto 38 55 - Johnsto	lross Island	H	15	11	97	15	6	24
8	Int Helen	H	10	15	25	*	ĸ	6
9 43 - Point F 12 44 - Johnsto 14 45 - Point H 15 46 - Point E 16 47 - Point E 20 48 - Point E 23 49 - Johnsto 23 50 - Kiniklik 30 51 - Point F st 3 52 - Johnsto st 6 53 - Point H st 7-8 54 - Point E	int Helen	H	13	21	34	0	0	0
12 44 - Johnsto 14 45 - Point H 15 46 - Point E 16 47 - Point E 20 48 - Point E 23 49 - Johnsto 29 50 - Kiniklib 30 51 - Point F st 3 52 - Johnsto st 6 53 - Point H st 7-8 54 - Point E	int Freemantle	H	11	15	97	0	0	0
14 45 - Point H 15 46 - Point E 16 47 - Point E 20 48 - Point E 23 49 - Johnsto 29 50 - Kiniklib 30 51 - Point F 8t 3 52 - Johnsto st 6 53 - Point H st 7-8 54 - Point E	hnstone Point	٢	38	42	80	70	19	39
15 46 - Point E 20 48 - Point E 23 49 - Johnsto 29 50 - Kiniklik 30 51 - Point F 8t 3 52 - Johnsto 8t 6 53 - Point H st 7-8 54 - Point E	int Helen	۲	23	27	20	16	18	34
16 47 - Point E. 20 48 - Point F. 23 49 - Johnsto 29 50 - Kiniklib 30 51 - Point F. st 3 52 - Johnsto st 6 53 - Point H. st 7-8 54 - Point E.	int Elrington	PS	3	12	15	0	0	0
20 48 - Point F 23 49 - Johnsto 29 50 - Kiniklib 30 51 - Point F 8t 3 52 - Johnsto 8t 6 53 - Point H 8t 7-8 54 - Point E	int Elrington	PS	1	0	7	0	0	0
23 49 - Johnsto 29 50 - Kiniklik 30 51 - Point F st 3 52 - Johnsto st 6 53 - Point H st 7-8 54 - Point E	int Freemantle	H	107	83	190	0	0	0
29 50 - Kiniklib 30 51 - Point F st 3 52 - Johnsto st 6 53 - Point H st 7-8 54 - Point E	hnstone Point	۲	37	33	R	0	0	0
30 51 - Point F st 3 52 - Johnsto st 6 53 - Point H st 7-8 54 - Point E	niklik Point	PS	13	14	27	0	0	0
52 - Johnsto 53 - Point H -8 54 - Point E	int Freemantle	H	34	53	63	0	0	0
53 -	hnstone Point	H	02	10	30	15	10	25
-8 54 -	int Helen	۲	6	2	14	9	4	10
	int Elrington	PS	-	7	3	0	0	0
Total			335	319	654	92	99	141

Figure C-1.--Localities in Prince William Sound where chum salmon samples were taken in the commercial catch, 1952-53 and 1956-58.

Figure C-2.--Stream locations in Prince William Sound where chum salmon spawning ground samples were taken, 1952-57.

Table C-2. --Particulars of measurements and scale samples taken from the Prince William Sound spawning grounds, 1952-1957 (E = Early, M = Middle, L = Late run streams)

				Number	Number of measurements	rements	Nump	Number of scales	ales
Date		Sample number and location 1/	Timing	Male	Female	Total	Male	Female	Total
1952					٠
	August 15	1 - Sheep Bay (11)	ы	10	36	46	18	19	37
	August 20	2 - Duck River (44)	×	41	55	93	20	15	35
	September 4	3 - Constantine Harbour (176)	M	52	45	26	0	0	0
	September 11	4 - Sheep Bay (11)	ঘ	25	19	44	0	0	0
	Total			128	152	280	38	34	72
1953
	July 23	5 - Sheep Bay (11)	ഥ	46	52	86	18	16	34
	July 24	6 - Beartrap Bay (20)	A	27	38	65	18	18	36
	July 25	7 - Olsen Bay (23)	ы	59	34	63	17	17	34
	July 27	8 - Indian Creek (45)	П	18	2.7	45	18	17	35
	August 1	9 - Coghill River (83)	×	13	15	28	17	18	35
	August 4	10 - Jackpot Bay (120)	H	40	6	49	17	80	25
	August 10	11 - Olsen Bay (23)	ы	24	27	51	14	19	33
	August 12	12 - Constantine Harbour (176)	×	19	10	29	18	80	97
	August 17	13 - Duck River (44)	×	80	44	124	16	19	35
	August 17	14 - Indian Creek (45)	ы	0	_	1	0	7	_
	August 18	15 - East Long Bay (58)	M	4	-	'n	'n	7	9
	August 18	16 - Cedar Bay (63)	1	2	-	3	2	_	33
	August 19	17 - Wells Bay (65)	M	9	٣	9	~	3	9
	August 21	18 - Pigot Bay (89)	ធ	-	œ	6	-	9	7
						_	_

1/ Number in parenthesis is number assigned by Fish and Wildlife Service to identify streams

the Prince William Sound spawning grounds, 1952-1957 -- Continued (E = Early, M = Middle, L = Late run streams) Table C-2. -- Particulars of measurements and scale samples taken from

				Number	Number of measurements	ements	Numb	Number of scales	es
Date		Sample number and location $\frac{1}{2}$	Timing	Male	Female	Total	Male	Female	Total
1953	continued		ı	(	ì	Ĺ	-	ŗ	36
	August 21	19 - Long Bay (100)	ı	49	40	ט י		` `	ם מ
	August 22	20 - Mink Harbour (102)	ı		4	٠	-	4' '	n ç
	August 24	21 - Jackpot Bay (120)	딘	29	22	124	70	18	× 9
	Angust 27	22 - South Port Chalmers (150)	7	4	7	9	4,	7	9
	Angust 28	23 - Constantine Harbour (176)	×	44	42	98	18	19	37
	August 31	24 - Sheep Bay (11)	ы	13	19	32	12	16	87
	August 31	25 - Sheen Bay (12)	×	48	30	82	18	18	36
	August 31		ы	37	24	61	19	13	32
	September 2	27 - Beartran Bay (20)	E E	54	50	104	19	17	36
	September 2	20 St Mathema Ray (26)	! ≯	īΩ	2	7	4	7	9
		20 Dot Didolo (32)	¦ - -	-	-	7	-	1	7
	September 5	27 - Foil Finaigo (55)	۱ ≯	38	17	55	15	13	28
	September 0		×	16	œ	24	16	8	24
	radicardac	or taking condition
	Total			683	572	1,255	330	300	630
1954								,
	August 16	32 - Sheep Bay (11)	되	19	16	35	1 8	16	5. 4. (
	August 22	33 - Cedar Bay (63)	ı	6	Ŋ	14	0	0 [	&gt; `
	August 24	34 - Eaglek Creek (73)	×	87	56	116	39	27	8
	, , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , 			115	50	165	57	43	100
	lotai

1/ Number in parenthesis is number assigned by Fish and Wildlife Service to identify streams.

Table C-2. --Particulars of measurements and scale samples taken from the Prince William Sound spawning grounds, 1952-1957 -- Continued (E = Early, M = Middle, L = Late run streams)

				Number	Number of measurements	ements	Numbe	Number of scales	les
Date		Sample number and location $\frac{1}{2}$	Timing	Male	Female	Total	Male	Female	Total
1955
	August 21	35 - Crab Bay (141)	ı	6	∞	17	6	80	17
	September 4	36 - Duck River (44)	×	33	41	74	19	19	38
	Total			42	49	91	28	27	55
1956
	August 16	37 - McClure Bay (110)	M	17	21	38	15	14	59
	August 18	38 - Coghill River (83)	M	53	64	117	18	18	36
	August 19	39 - Eaglek Creek (73)	M	38	61	66	18	16	34
	August 21	40 - Cedar Bay (63)	IJ	51	32	83	19	17	36
	August 22	41 - Long Bay (58)	×	36	43	62	0	0	0
	August 24	42 - Duck River (44)	M	38	55	93	20	18	38
	August 30	43 - Sheep Bay (12)	IJ	59	69	128	18	17	35
	August 31	44 - Beartrap Bay (20)	딢	33	52	85	18	18	36
	August 31	45 - Olsen Bay (23)	딢	35	19	54	0	0	0
	September 9	46 - Long Bay (100)	Г	33	55	88	0	0	0
	Total			393	471	864	126	118	244
1957
	August 15	47 - Jackpot Bay (120)	ы	55	54	109	55	54	109
	August 17	48 - North Pigot Bay (89N)	딢	48	52	100	0	0	0
	August 23	49 - Duck River (44)	M	20	22	42	20	18	38
	August 25	50 - Sheep Bay (11)	曰	20	20	40	17	16	33
	Total			143	148	291	92	88	180

1/Number in parenthesis is number assigned by Fish and Wildlife Service to identify streams.

Table C-3. --Length frequencies of chum salmon taken in Prince William Sound commercial fishery by age (in years) and sex, 1952-1953 and 1956-1958

-	-					ľ						l	1		ŀ						L					l
Length	Sar	Sample No.	o Z	٦ .	,	 	amp	Je D	0	7			Sample No.	ž e	J5		=	San	Sample No.	o Z	4		Sa	Sample No.	Š S	. 5
by centi-	Ψo	Montague Island	ıe J	slar	ηq	щ	ort	Gra	vina	-Sh	eep		akw	ik-]	Unakwik-Port			Moı	itag	ne g	Montague Strait-	t-	Ž	Montague Strait-	gue	Str	aitmeter						Д	ay				Bay		Fidalgo	0				Kni	Knight Island	sla	pu		Ba	Bainbridge Island	ridg	e Is	lan group	Au	August 6,		1952		4	August 12,	st 1,		1952		- 1	August 12,	t 12	1	1952	=	July	July 15,		1953		Ju	July 2	21, ]	1953
(mm.)											Sex		and age	٠
	Male	ļ		Fe	Female	Σ	ેતી		Ĕ	Female	ø	$M_{\tilde{c}}$	Male		Fer	Female		Male	e		Female	ale	M	Male	-	Fe	Female
	3	4 8	Н	3 4	5	3	4	5	3	4	5	3	4	5	3	4 5		3	4 5	_	3 4	5	3	4	2	3	4
505		-	$\vdash$	L										-	-		=		-	_	L	_	L		-	-
15		_	-	L	-	_								$\vdash$	-	_	=	-	-	-	_	_			-		-
25		-	-	_	_	-			 					-	-	_	-	-	-	-		_				-
35			-	L		_			-					-	-	_	=	-	-	-	_	-			$\vdash$	-
45		-	-	L		L			T			Γ		+	+	-	Ħ	+	-	 	L	_			 -	-	T
55		-	-	-		_			-					-	-	_	-		-	$\vdash$	_	_			 -	-
55			-		_	_								-	-	_	-	_	-	_	-			-	-	-
75		-	-	1		1			$\vdash$			-		-	-	_	=	-	 	_	_				-	-
35			F	1		_									-	1	H	_	1	1				in provinc		7	_
95	3		-						7	-				-	5				2	Γ_	2		1	-	-	-	7
)5	Ξ	-	Γ.	_	_							2	1		_	1			7	 	3	_		3	-	-	_
.5		_	-			3			-	-		7		 	2	 	=	-	_	 	3				-	-	7
.5	3	1	 			3	$\lfloor 1 \rfloor$			1		1	1	-					2	Щ	4			4			2
5		1		2			2			3			5			2   1			3		2	1		3	1		2
.5				3			2			1			3		Н	1 1								2	-		1
5		2		1		_		1		2			-			4		_	2					2			2
5		2	ļ		_		-						7	-						 					-	_	2
.5		1 1	$\vdash$	2			1						_		-				1	_				1	7
15			-					1			2		1	1			-		1	_					_
5					1		1			1	1			1						Щ				1	,
5		1 3	 		1	L	-		 	-				7		-			1								_
.5			_																1			- Santag				-
35		1		_	_				_						-		=			 	_
35			2300 Ta	_					-					-
45		$\vdash$		L					-						-		=		_	 	_				-
55		H	-	Ц					11						H		H	-	H	H					H		H
00		$\vdash$	ļ	$\perp$		_		Γ	-	T			Ī	+	$\vdash$	-	-	-	-	-	_				-
59						$\Box$								 	-	-		-	-	-	_
0+0	7	α		3 12	3	8	2	2	3	=	4	0119	2	2	0	7 1 7	-	2 11	16.2	2	911	-	-	7	~	,	7.

Table C-3, --Length frequencies ofchum salmon taken in Prince William Sound commercial fishery by age (in years) --Continued and sex. 1952-1953 and 1956-1958

Table C-3. --Length frequencies of chum salmon taken in Prince William Sound commercial fishery by age (in years)

		ı	Knight Island Passage			r]e	S.															-														0
	18	Montague Strait	d P	99		Female	4					1		7	7	9	7	3	-										_							17
	No.	e St	slan	July 24, 1956		Ŧ	3					7		1																	L	_			_	3
	Sample No.	agn	nt I	24,			5							_		_					_									ener	chah	ne tue-t				0
	ami	lont	nig	uly		Male	4				_								3	3	1	1									L					Ξ
	S	2	ᅜ	ŗ		Z	3			1	-	1		7		_	_					-	Name of							L	L			Ц	_	7
	- C			en stranst		e	5																										İ			c
ļ	16	MacLeod Harbor				Female	4			-			3	1	_	4	5		_	-	1															17
Continued		Haı		1956		Fe	3	_		-		-				-						_	_		-				-		-					2
	e N	poa				-	5							_					$\Box$																	c
٥	Sample No.	1c L		July 20,		Male	4				-			1	1	1		1	7	4	2															-
۱ ٔ	Sa	ž		Ju		Ma	3					2			1													_						-		п
and 1956-1958												-					 					Г
-						Female	5 T 1			_	-			_			_	4	4	_		_	_						-	-	 	_	Н			0
175	. 15	¤		1956		Fen	3 4			_	ļ			ļ		_	1 2	4	4		1	DE EU-M	-	PATON		rest	-	Person			L	_		_		1 14
7 I	Š	Arr					5			-					-			and Company		_	- T.F.		(Apri)276	N/A/H-Red	(VEAPOR	ant Three			-	-	-	-	Н	$\vdash$		_
	Sample No.	Valdez Arm		July 19,	age	е	4			_			_	2	1	1	2		5	-	1	-	-				_		-	-	$\vdash$	-	Н		-	77
-	San	Val		Jul	and	Male	3	_		_	_	_		-	-	H		_	_	-	_					-	_		-	_	-	-	Н	-	-	-
1954-1955					Sex :	-			_	_		_				-	$\vdash$	_	-	-								_	_	-	┢	-	Н			-
ı					S	ale	2										L					_									L		Ц			0
sex,	14			99		emal	4		1				Ţ	3	1	4	2	3		7	1	_														10
alla	Š.	11s		1956		Ā	3																	AL DESIRE	1										1000	2
	ole ]	Wells		19,			2			_	_					L	_		_	L			_					_			L		Ц	_		-
	Sample No.	Port		July		Male	4			L				7		2	4		_	2	3	2	2					_	L	_	_		Ц			10
	S.	щ		J		N	3	_		_					_	_	L	_		_	_				_			_	_	_	$\vdash$	L	Ц	_		C
ļ		1				e	5																								1
	12	bor		1956		Female	4			-	-	-	1	3	3	$\vdash$	2	3	-	-	2	一		-		-		$\vdash$	一		T	T				15
1		MacLeod Harbor	_			Fe	3					-		$\vdash$		-	_			-	_	-									Γ		П			c
	Sample No.	eod	Point Helen	July 10-11,			5									┢			_																	- mpl	acL	int	1y 1		ale	3 4					2		1	1		5		4	-		1														1 6
	Sa	Ň	$\mathbf{P}_{C}$	Ju		X	3									1																				-
	Length	by centi-	meter	group	(mm.)			505	515	525	535	545	555	595	575	585	595	909	615	625	635	645	655	999	675	685	969	705	715	725	735	745	755	< 500	>759	Total

Table C-3. --Length frequencies of chum salmon taken in Prince William Sound commercial fishery by age (in years) and sex, 1952-1953 and 1956-1958 --Continued

an ath	ú	9									•
Length by centi-	Hin	Sample No. 17 Hinchinbrook Island	broc	k Is	land	ž	New England	nole	and Fi	Sample No. 28 New England Fish Co.		-Va	Valdez Arn	Arı	-Valdez Arm-Port	ort	-	Granite	pre nite	Bay	Granite Bay Point	nt	j ≥	Montagne S	שנוספ	- 4	rait meter	Pol	ts G	rav	ina &	Ports Gravina & Fid-		llamar	ar				Fic	Fidalgo	2	•	)		5		3 1	5 4			nigh	t [s]	Knight Island Pas	Pas group	algo		ngn	st 2,	August 2, 1956	_	August 3,	t 3,	1956	9		An	August	3,	1956	اي	-	Aug	ast	1-4	August 1-4, 1956	ا	5	July	26,	1957
(mm.)										Sex	x and	dage	е
	d	- 4	_	, o	3le	Ma		10-2	Fe	ल		Male	le	-	آق	ale		Male	· ł		إقرا	lle Lle	2	Male		Fe	Female
	3	4 5	3	4	2	3	4	5	3	4 5		س	4	5	3.4	2	$\dashv$	3	4 5	2	4	5	3	4	5	3	4
)5							-2+h								_
15	-	-	_			1	day- 37
25		-				-									_				_
35	7	-										7		_		_		2	License
15	2	-															_	1
55		-	7				46,27					-		-		_		1	-
55	-	-				3	CAL RIV			1			1	Ļ.	$1 \mid 1$							P-000-17
3	Ε	-		-		3	=			2			-	_	1			2	2	_	2
35	2	-						T,		1						_		1 2	2		9
5		-		1		1	Ī		_/	4			3		2				1 1		-	Barry C.				_	-
5				7			7			1		3	-1	-	4			2	2		3	-
5	Ξ	-	L	2			Ε			2			2	-	_	 	-	2	2		1		1				_
5.	Ε	-		3			-			F			4	-	1	ļ					4					2
5	E	-		2	-		-			1		 	7	-	9	_		3	3					1		-
5	Ε			7			-1		-	4		-	-	-	_	L		_									1
22		-					7			_					_	_			7				] 4	3		Н	7
ιζ.		2								-				-	_	_	-	_					7
5		-										-		-	-		 	_	-					1			4
15									-				-	-	_		_							1
5		-	-							1				-			antweat							1			4
5		-											-			- 3-a. and	_							1			4
5		-							-	-			_	-	_
5			_			_						-		$\vdash$			ev acca		Н		Ц						_
35									-	-		-	-	_	_
15		_	ļ							-		$\vdash$	-	-	_
55		-										-	$\vdash$	$\vdash$	Н	Н	-						74.74
<500		-										Н	Н		H										2
>759										-									-	_			50 😯			r

Table C-3. -- Length frequencies of chum salmon taken in Prince William Sound commercial fishery by age (in years) and sex. 1952-1953 and 1956-1958 --Continued

			1	1																ĺ		ľ				ı
Length	Sample	ole N	Š.	40		Š	ump.	le N		41		Sa	Sample No.	e Z		44		San	Sample No.	N	45	_	Sa	Sample No.	e Š	. 52	~ 1
1	Culross Island	sso	Isla	pu		ď	Point Helen	He	en			Jo	Johnstone Point	tone	Ъо	int		Poi	Point Helen	elen			Jo	Johnstone Point	one	$\mathbf{P}^{\mathrm{oi}}$	nt meter	July 6.		1958			ي ر	July ?	7, 1	1958			Ju	July 12,		1958	~		Jul	July 14,	1958	8		A	August	t 3,	1958	∞
(mm.)	1							1		Sex	and	10	60														ľ
	Male		F	Female	Je	M	ale		Fe	Female	٥	M	Male	П	Fe	Female		Male	Ð	1	Female	le	X	Male		Fer	Female
	3 4	5	3	4	5	3	4	5	3	4	5	3	4	5	3	4 5		3	4 5	3	4	5	3	4	5	3	4 5
505									T			V J														-	$\dashv$
15		-		Ī														-	-							-	-
25		-									Ī	No. of							_							-
35	tr/s was											-							-
45	770											Control			1		-		-	_							-
55	van		-						-			2							H								-
65	un											irtuitet			_				-	4	1					-	-
75	et t	F										T				-					1				_		1
85	1 2	-		7						Ĩ.		Parity II			7	-			-	, il.,				2			3
95		L		E								-			2	-			-	_			1	1		1
35	- T	=		2				-		7		-	3			3		1		_				1		-	-
15	2	-										7						_	_	_	1	- CON-14		2		-	2
25	AL.			-			-					DALTE	1					2		-				2		+	$\dashv$
35	2			Ξ		_		-				1	2			9			2	-				3		-	3
45	07	-											Ε				-		2	_	7	-				-
55		-			-	-				2			Ξ						_	-	9					+	-
55	unus	-							1										1		7			2		$\dashv$	+
75	1	-											-			-	-		2	-	1				-		$\dashv$
35		L				L							2							-	1						+
95	un										o i											_	-134			+	+
35	energ*			Ī,													ы		7	-	_					+	+
15	111								Ĭ		113						411	-		-						+	+
25									1					1					+	-	_	_	-			+	$\dashv$
35	lian, wet						ĮĮ.											-	_		-	_				$\dashv$	+
45																			+	-	_					$\dashv$	$\dagger$
55															1	1	1		1	╢	$\parallel$	4			brack	$\dagger$	$\dagger$
00													4				_		-	$\dashv$	_	_	ARCHIN.			+	+
7759																#	1	#	1	#	#	1	-	1		   -	C
10+01	1113			7		0	6	2		4	c	7	12	=	4	~	ر. د	S	 6	7	9	_	-	7.		_	-

Table C-3. --Length frequencies of chum salmon taken in Prince William Sound commercial fishery by age (in years) and sex, 1952-1953 and 1956-1958 --Continued

1952-19
sex,
and																																	1
																TVID
						le	ις.
	53			1958	age	Female	4								1			-			62															4
	70.	len			ਯੂ	Ŀı	3																													Р
	le l	He		st 6	X		2																													Þ
	Sample No.	Point Helen		August 6,	Sex	Male	4									Ţ	1	1		-		~														þ
	Sa	й		¥		Z	3																	-												Þ
	Length	by centi-	meter	group	(mm.)			5	5	5	5	5	5	5	5	5	5	5	5	5	9	9	5	5	5	5	5	5	5	2	5	2	2		7	tal
	Ļ	by	H	gr	u)			505	51	52	53	545	55			58	29	09	61	29	63	64	92	999	675	685	969	705	715	72	73	745	755	<500		Total
															71

Table C-4. --Length frequencies of chum salmon taken from the Prince William Sound spawning grounds by age (in verts) and sex 1952-1957 --Continued

													•					ě
Length	Sam	Sample No	Zo.	Ţ		Š	Samp]	aple N		2	=	Sa	Sample No.	Ž u	ე.			San	Sample	s.	9		Sa	Sample No.	e K	. 7
by centi-	She	Sheep Bay	λy			Ā	Duck River	Riv	er			Sh	eeb	Sheep Bay	_			Веа	Beartrap Bay	g G	ay		ō	sen	Olsen Bay
group	Aug	August 15	_	1952	٥,	Ā	August	st 20,		1952		Ju	July 23,		1953			July	July 24,		1953		2	1y 2	July 25, 1953	153
(mm.)										J1	×	and	age
	Male	1	r	5 F	ale	Mal	e l		Fe	a	e	M	Male		r I	emale		Male		_	Female	ale	M	Male		Female	nal
	3	4 5	3	4	5	3	4	5	3	4	5	3	4	5	3	4   5		3	4   5	1 3	4	5	3	4	5	3.	4 5
505												1				$\vdash$				-	_					-
.5		-													_					N. TON	_					-
.5		-									1000				-	_		_	-	and the same	_					-	-
5		-													-	-	-	-			ļ.,	_				-
15		-					L									-		_								-	1
55		-	L	L												-	-		_	_	_	_					-
5	-	-														-			-	-			_		_
5		-		L		_										-		$\vdash$	$\vdash$	-	 -						†-
35		-	_								77			esarri		2	-		├	_	_	L				_
5	1		_	_												2			2	_	_						_
5							2				This is	M	Ξ	1					_	-	7			1	1		2
5		3 1		-			-	-		3				F		2		$\vdash$	L	_	3	L					2
5		-		3	2		7			-			2		CWI	-	1	-	1	L	-	_				_
5				-			-				1				mary gr	_			2	_	上			2	_
ις:	-			2	-		2			-	1		Ξ	2	^	 		-		_	_	_		3			2
5					_			_						1	t Revented		2		1	_	1	7		1	1
5								3			2			2	-1				-	-	1	1			2
.5		2 1		II	1			3		Ē	2				,				2 1								2
15		-			_						2		1	1	- e per		2					1					$\dashv$
5	ĢT.	1		П	1	3		2							(mgy ra	-			1		_				-1		$\neg$
5											I		Ji	1	-					_	1
5			_								I				PIPE				2
5				1
5		-			1														_	-				roem s	-
55		-									=				muntg	-			H								Н
55		Н	Н	Ц				Ц			Ħ				17:11	H											Н
90		H																gez
59		-		_							H				Н					more				nare i			_
Total	7			ľ			ŀ	Į

Table C-4. -- Length frequencies of chum salmon taken from the Prince William Sound spawning grounds by age (in years) and sex, 1952-1957 --Continued

| 7           |        | 1953                                                  |                                                                                                                   | ΪĔ                                                                                                                                                                                        | 4                                                                                                                 | +                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                             | $\vdash$                                                                                                                                                               | T                                                                                                                                                                                     | ┢                                                                                                                                                                           | $\vdash$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | +                                                                                                                                                                                    | 1                                                                                                                                                                                     | -                                                                                                      | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 7

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 7

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | _

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | ┢                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | $\vdash$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | T                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | $\vdash$
                                                                                                                                                                                                          | #                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | +                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|-------------|--------|-------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------
	a e		ł

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | -

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | ├                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | -

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | ┝
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |  -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | -
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
                                                                                                                                                                                                          | #                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Ź:          | ntiı   | 12,                                                   |                                                                                                                   | -                                                                                                                                                                                         | 2                                                                                                                 | ┝                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | -                                                                                                                                                                      | ╁                                                                                                                                                                      | ╁                                                                                                                                                                                     | +-                                                                                                                                                                          | $\vdash$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | -                                                                                                                                                                                    | ┢╌                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | $\vdash$

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 늘

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | ┝                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |  -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | ┝                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | -
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | $\vdash$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | ╁╌                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | ╁
                                                                                                                                                                                                          | ╫                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| )Idu    | ısta   | borgust                                               |                                                                                                                   | e                                                                                                                                                                                         | 4                                                                                                                 | ╁                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                        | $\vdash$                                                                                                                                                               | $\dagger$                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | -                                                                                                                                                                                    | -                                                                                                                                                                                     | 2                                                                                                      | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | _

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 3                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 5

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | $\vdash$
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | ┢                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | †-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | $\vdash$
                                                                                                                                                                                                          | ╫╴                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Sampie No.  | Cor    | НатАид                                            | Ί                                                                                                                 | Ma                                                                                                                                                                                        | Į.                                                                                                                | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | -                                                                                                                                                                      | $\vdash$                                                                                                                                                               | ┝                                                                                                                                                                                     | -                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | -                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | $\vdash$

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | -

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | -
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | $\vdash$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | -
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | ╁                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | ╁                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | ╁                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | +
                                                                                                                                                                                                          | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|             |        |                                                       | ł                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                           | _                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | _                                                                                                                                                                      | Ļ                                                                                                                                                                      | Ļ                                                                                                                                                                                     | -                                                                                                                                                                           | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | _                                                                                                                                                                                    | _                                                                                                                                                                                     | _                                                                                                      | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | -

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | L

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | ļ.,
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | _
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | igapha                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | -
                                                                                                                                                                                                          | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|             |        |                                                       |                                                                                                                   | lle.                                                                                                                                                                                      | 5                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | -
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | ٦,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 1 1         |        | .953                                                  |                                                                                                                   | ema                                                                                                                                                                                       | 4                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                             | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                      | -                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                        | 2                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 3

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | F

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 3                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Γ                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|             | >      |                                                       |                                                                                                                   | E                                                                                                                                                                                         | 33                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | -                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                        | $\vdash$                                                                                                                                                                              | -                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                      | _                                                                                                                                                                                     | H                                                                                                      | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | -

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | $\vdash$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | T                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | -
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| ָבּ     | Ва     | ;t                                                    |                                                                                                                   | _                                                                                                                                                                                         | 5                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | -

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 2                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | T                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| d i         | sen    | sngı                                                  |                                                                                                                   | ale                                                                                                                                                                                       | 4                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | ┪                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                        | Г                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Г

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | F

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | -
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Γ                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | | | | | | | | | | | | | |
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 3 (         | Ö      | Αn                                                    |                                                                                                                   | Ĭ                                                                                                                                                                                         | 3                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | T                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
                                                                                                                                                                                                          | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|             |        |                                                       | 1                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                        | T                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Ī                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|             |        |                                                       |                                                                                                                   | ale                                                                                                                                                                                       | 5                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | L                                                                                                                                                                      | ļ                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                       | L                                                                                                                                                                           | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | _                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                       | L                                                                                                      | L                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | _

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | L

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 1
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | _
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | L                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | L                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | _
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 7           |        | 953                                                   |                                                                                                                   | em                                                                                                                                                                                        | -                                                                                                                 | Щ                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | _                                                                                                                                                                      | L                                                                                                                                                                      | L                                                                                                                                                                                     | _                                                                                                                                                                           | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | L                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                       | L                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | _

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 7

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Γ.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | L                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | _
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | _
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Ļ.
                                                                                                                                                                                                          | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| , f         | Бау    |                                                       |                                                                                                                   | H                                                                                                                                                                                         | 3                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                        | L.                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | _                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | L

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | L                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | L                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 21          | pot    | st 4                                                  |                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                           | 2                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                        | L                                                                                                                                                                      | L                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | _

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 1

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | L                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | L
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 1117        | ack)   | ngn                                                   | a                                                                                                                 | ale                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                        | 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 7

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | | | | | | | | | | | | |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| š +         | ب      | ∢                                                     | ים                                                                                                                | Σ                                                                                                                                                                                         | 3                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | | | | | | | | | | | | |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|             |        |                                                       | and                                                                                                               | 0)                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | | | | | | | | | | | | |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|             |        | 3                                                     | ex                                                                                                                | nale                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                   | Н                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | _                                                                                                                                                                      | -                                                                                                                                                                      | -                                                                                                                                                                                     | _                                                                                                                                                                           | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | _                                                                                                                                                                                    | L                                                                                                                                                                                     | 2                                                                                                      | 21                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | _
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | L                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | ╀                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | -
                                                                                                                                                                                                          | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|             | 'er    | 195.                                                  | נט                                                                                                                | Fen                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                        | _                                                                                                                                                                      | _                                                                                                                                                                                     | _                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | L                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                       | 2                                                                                                      | 2                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 7

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | _
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | L                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | L                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | L
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| נ. כב   | ž      |                                                       |                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                           | -                                                                                                                 | $\vdash$                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | _                                                                                                                                                                      | ⊢                                                                                                                                                                      | $\vdash$                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | ļ                                                                                                                                                                                    | _                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | _

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | L                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | _
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 7 7         | III.   | ust                                                   |                                                                                                                   | ۵                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | _                                                                                                                                                                      | -                                                                                                                                                                      | _                                                                                                                                                                                     | _                                                                                                                                                                           | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                | _                                                                                                      | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | _

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | _
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | ļ.,
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|             | go     | lug                                                   |                                                                                                                   | Mal                                                                                                                                                                                       | 5                                                                                                                 | Н                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                        | L                                                                                                                                                                      | -                                                                                                                                                                                     | _                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | _                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 4

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 2                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 2
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | L                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | L
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| , (         |        |                                                       |                                                                                                                   | -                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                        | -                                                                                                                                                                      | -                                                                                                                                                                                     | _                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                      | _                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | _

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | | | | | | | | | | | | |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | L                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | L                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|             |        |                                                       |                                                                                                                   | e                                                                                                                                                                                         | 5                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | _

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | I                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|             |        |                                                       |                                                                                                                   | maj                                                                                                                                                                                       | 4                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                        | _                                                                                                                                                                                     | $\vdash$                                                                                                                                                                    | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | H                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                       | 2                                                                                                      | 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 7

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 2                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 2

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 2
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | -
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | -
                                                                                                                                                                                                          | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | ~~.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
|             | еС | 953                                                   |                                                                                                                   | Fe                                                                                                                                                                                        | 3                                                                                                                 | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                        | -                                                                                                                                                                      | -                                                                                                                                                                                     | -                                                                                                                                                                           | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | -                                                                                                                                                                                    | _                                                                                                                                                                                     | _                                                                                                      | 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | $\vdash$

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | _

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | ┝                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | -

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Н
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | _
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Н
                                                                                                                                                                                                          | $\  \cdot \ $                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | -#                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| בֿר בֿר בּר | Š      | 7, 1                                                  |                                                                                                                   | -                                                                                                                                                                                         | 5                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | -                                                                                                                                                                      | -                                                                                                                                                                      | ┝                                                                                                                                                                                     | -                                                                                                                                                                           | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | -

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | -

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 1

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | $\vdash$                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| r br        | ıan    | y 2.                                                  |                                                                                                                   | le                                                                                                                                                                                        | 4                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | _                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                        | T                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                       | 1                                                                                                      | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 9

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | -

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 2                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 5

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | cnau                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | -
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | т
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 7           | Ind    | Jul                                                   |                                                                                                                   | Ma                                                                                                                                                                                        | 3                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 1                                                                                                                                                                      | -                                                                                                                                                                      | -                                                                                                                                                                                     | -                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | _                                                                                                                                                                                    | -                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                        | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | -

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | -

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | H                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Н                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Н

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Н
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | _
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | -
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|             |        |                                                       |                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                   | H                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | -                                                                                                                                                                      | -                                                                                                                                                                      | -                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | -                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | -

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | -

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Ξ
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Н
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | +                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 11.         | enti.  | Η α.                                           | -                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | ١,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 10 C        | y ce   | ieterouj                                          | nm.                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                   | 95                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 15                                                                                                                                                                     | 25                                                                                                                                                                     | 35                                                                                                                                                                                    | 45                                                                                                                                                                          | 55                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 9                                                                                                                                                                                    | 75                                                                                                                                                                                    | 85                                                                                                     | 95                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 35

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 15

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 25                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 35                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 45                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 55

                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 55
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 75                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 85                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 95                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 25                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 15
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 25                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 35                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 45                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 55
                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 7759                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|             |        | iti- Indian Creek Coghill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay | Iti- Indian Creek Coghill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay July 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953 | Indian Creek         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           July 27, 1953         August 1, 1953         August 10, 1953           Sex and age         Sex and age | Iti-Indian CreekCoghill RiverJackpot BayOlsen BayJuly 27, 1953August 1, 1953August 10, 1953MaleFemaleFemaleFemale | er Indian Creek Coghill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay er July 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953  Nale Female Male Female Male Female Male Female  3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 5 3 4 5 5 | erti- Indian Creck Goghill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay er July 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953    August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953 | erti- Indian Creck Coghill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay er July 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953    August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953 | enti- Indian Creck Goghill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay er July 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953  Nale Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female II | enti- Indian Creck Goghill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay er July 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953  Nale Female Male Female Male Female Male Female IIII | erti- Indian Creck Goghill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay er July 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953    July 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953    Male   Female   Male   Female   Male   Female   Female   Male   Female   Female   Male   Female   enti- Indian Creek Coghill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay er July 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953    July 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953 | enti- Indian Creek Coghill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay err July 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953    July 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953 | er July 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953  Male Female Male Female Male Female  1 | erti- Indian Creek Goghill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay Olsen Bay  er  July 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953  Sex and age  Male Female Male Female Male Female  Male Female Male Female Male Female  1 | by centi-         Indian Creck         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           meter         July 27, 1953         August 1, 1953         August 4, 1953         August 10, 1953           meter         Male         Female         Male         Female         Female           fmm.)         Male         Female         Male         Female         Female           505         1         1         1         2         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4 <td>by centi-         Indian Creek         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         Male         Female         Male         Female         Female         Female           505         1         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4<td>by centi-         Indian Creck         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         Male         Female         Male         Female         Female         Female           505         1         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5           515         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         1         1         1           555         1         6         1         6         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1</td><td>by centimeter and the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the followin</td><td>by centi-         Indian Creck         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         July 27, 1953         August 1, 1953         August 4, 1953         August 10, 1953           (mm.)         Male         Female         Male         Female         Male         Female         Female           505         1         6         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3&lt;</td><td>by centi-         Indian Creck         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         July 27, 1953         August 1, 1953         August 4, 1953         August 10, 1953           group         Male         Female         Female         Female         Female           505         1         5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3
4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         <td< td=""><td>by centineter         Indian Creek         Cognill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         July 27, 1953         August 1, 1953         August 4, 1953         August 10, 1953           group         Male         Female         Female         Female         Female           505         1         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5<td>enti- Indian Creek  Tuly 27, 1953  August 1, 1953  August 4, 1953  August 10, 1953  August 10, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August</td><td>by centrity meters         Indian Creck         Cognill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         Male         Female         Female         Female</td></td></td<><td>by centi-         Indian Creck         Coghill River         Facebook         August 4, 1953         August 4, 1953         August 10, 1953           group         Male         Female         Male         Female         Male         Female         Female           505         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         1         6         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1</td><td>by centit- Indian Creck Cognill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay meter group group group are shown as a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a s</td><td>by centit- Indian Creck Goghill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay meter group group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group</td><td>by centit- Indian Creek Gogfull River Judy 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953 Remaile Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Maile Female Maile Maile Female Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile
Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Ma</td><td>by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central</td><td>by central meters         Indian Creek         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         Male         Female         Male         Female         Male         Female           555         1         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         <t< td=""><td>by centit - Indian Creck         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           meter (mm.)         Male         Female         Male         Female         Fe</td><td>by centi- Indian Creek Cognil River Jackpot Bay Olss parter matera (mm.)  Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Male Male Male Male Male M</td><td>by centi- Indian Creek. Cognili River Jackpot Bay Olympia Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Male Male Male Male Male M</td></t<></td></td></td> | by centi-         Indian Creek         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         Male         Female         Male         Female         Female         Female           505         1         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4 <td>by centi-         Indian Creck         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         Male         Female         Male         Female         Female         Female           505         1         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5           515         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         1         1         1           555         1         6         1         6         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1</td> <td>by centimeter and the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the followin</td> <td>by centi-         Indian Creck         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         July 27, 1953         August 1, 1953         August 4, 1953         August 10, 1953           (mm.)         Male         Female         Male         Female         Male         Female         Female           505         1         6         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3&lt;</td> <td>by centi-         Indian Creck         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         July 27, 1953         August 1, 1953         August 4, 1953         August 10, 1953           group         Male         Female         Female         Female         Female           505         1         5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         <td< td=""><td>by centineter         Indian Creek         Cognill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         July 27, 1953         August 1, 1953         August 4, 1953         August 10, 1953           group         Male         Female         Female         Female         Female           505         1         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5<td>enti- Indian Creek  Tuly 27, 1953  August 1, 1953  August 4, 1953  August 10, 1953  August 10, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August</td><td>by centrity meters         Indian Creck         Cognill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         Male         Female         Female         Female</td></td></td<><td>by centi-         Indian Creck         Coghill River         Facebook         August 4, 1953         August 4, 1953         August 10, 1953           group         Male         Female         Male         Female         Male         Female         Female           505         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         1         6         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1</td><td>by centit- Indian Creck Cognill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay meter group group group are shown as a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a s</td><td>by centit- Indian Creck Goghill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay meter group group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group
Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group</td><td>by centit- Indian Creek Gogfull River Judy 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953 Remaile Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Maile Female Maile Maile Female Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Ma</td><td>by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central</td><td>by central meters         Indian Creek         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         Male         Female         Male         Female         Male         Female           555         1         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         <t< td=""><td>by centit - Indian Creck         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           meter (mm.)         Male         Female         Male         Female         Fe</td><td>by centi- Indian Creek Cognil River Jackpot Bay Olss parter matera (mm.)  Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Male Male Male Male Male M</td><td>by centi- Indian Creek. Cognili River Jackpot Bay Olympia Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Male Male Male Male Male M</td></t<></td></td> | by centi-         Indian Creck         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         Male         Female         Male         Female         Female         Female           505         1         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5           515         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         1         1         1           555         1         6         1         6         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1 | by centimeter and the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the
following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the following properties of the followin | by centi-         Indian Creck         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         July 27, 1953         August 1, 1953         August 4, 1953         August 10, 1953           (mm.)         Male         Female         Male         Female         Male         Female         Female           505         1         6         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3< | by centi-         Indian Creck         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         July 27, 1953         August 1, 1953         August 4, 1953         August 10, 1953           group         Male         Female         Female         Female         Female           505         1         5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5         3 4 5 <td< td=""><td>by centineter         Indian Creek         Cognill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         July 27, 1953         August 1, 1953         August 4, 1953         August 10, 1953           group         Male         Female         Female         Female         Female           505         1         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5<td>enti- Indian Creek  Tuly 27, 1953  August 1, 1953  August 4, 1953  August 10, 1953  August 10, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August</td><td>by centrity meters         Indian Creck         Cognill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         Male         Female         Female         Female</td></td></td<> <td>by centi-         Indian Creck         Coghill River         Facebook         August 4, 1953         August 4, 1953         August 10, 1953           group         Male         Female         Male         Female         Male         Female         Female           505         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         1         6         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1</td> <td>by centit- Indian Creck Cognill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay meter group group group are shown as a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a s</td> <td>by centit- Indian Creck Goghill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay meter group group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group</td> <td>by centit- Indian Creek Gogfull River Judy 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953 Remaile Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Maile Female Maile Maile Female Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Ma</td> <td>by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central</td> <td>by central meters         Indian Creek         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         Male         Female         Male         Female         Male         Female           555         1         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         <t< td=""><td>by centit - Indian Creck         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           meter (mm.)         Male         Female         Male         Female         Fe</td><td>by centi- Indian Creek Cognil River Jackpot Bay Olss parter matera (mm.)  Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Male Male Male Male Male M</td><td>by centi- Indian Creek. Cognili River Jackpot Bay Olympia Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Male Male Male Male Male M</td></t<></td> | by centineter         Indian Creek         Cognill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         July 27, 1953         August 1, 1953         August 4, 1953         August 10, 1953           group         Male         Female         Female         Female         Female           505         1         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5
      3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5 <td>enti- Indian Creek  Tuly 27, 1953  August 1, 1953  August 4, 1953  August 10, 1953  August 10, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August</td> <td>by centrity meters         Indian Creck         Cognill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         Male         Female         Female         Female</td> | enti- Indian Creek  Tuly 27, 1953  August 1, 1953  August 4, 1953  August 10, 1953  August 10, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August 11, 1953  August | by centrity meters         Indian Creck         Cognill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         Male         Female         Female         Female | by centi-         Indian Creck         Coghill River         Facebook         August 4, 1953         August 4, 1953         August 10, 1953           group         Male         Female         Male         Female         Male         Female         Female           505         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         6         1         1         6         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1         1 | by centit- Indian Creck Cognill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay meter group group group are shown as a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a second with a s | by centit- Indian Creck Goghill River Jackpot Bay Olsen Bay meter group group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group
Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group Group | by centit- Indian Creek Gogfull River Judy 27, 1953 August 1, 1953 August 4, 1953 August 10, 1953 Remaile Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Female Maile Maile Female Maile Maile Female Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Maile Ma | by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central by central | by central meters         Indian Creek         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           group         Male         Female         Male         Female         Male         Female           555         1         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3 <t< td=""><td>by centit - Indian Creck         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           meter (mm.)         Male         Female         Male         Female         Fe</td><td>by centi- Indian Creek Cognil River Jackpot Bay Olss parter matera (mm.)  Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Male Male Male Male Male M</td><td>by centi- Indian Creek. Cognili River Jackpot Bay Olympia Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Male Male Male Male Male M</td></t<> | by centit - Indian Creck         Coghill River         Jackpot Bay         Olsen Bay           meter (mm.)         Male         Female         Male         Female         Fe | by centi- Indian Creek Cognil River Jackpot Bay Olss parter matera (mm.)  Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Male Male Male Male Male M | by centi- Indian Creek. Cognili River Jackpot Bay Olympia Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Female Male Female Male Male Female Male Male Male Male Male Male Male M |

Table C-4. --Length frequencies of chum salmon taken from the Prince William Sound spawning grounds by age (in years) and sex, 1952-1957 --Continued

					ב	(in years)	s) and	S DC	sex, 1952-1957	27.0	ζ1-7	121		7777	7
Length	Sample No. 13	0,	Sam	ple	ó	14		S	ump	Sample No.	ı	15	-	Sar	Sample No.	No	. 16	9		Sample No.	ple	Š	. 17
by centi-		Н	ndia	S S	Indian Creek	يد.		ഥ	ast	Lon	East Long Bay	ı y		Če	Cedar Bay	Вау				Wel	Wells Bay	3ay meter																•		1				•	•	(
group	August 17, 1953	-	Augu	August 17,	- 1	1953		⋖	ngn	August 18,	- 1	1953	gg-reg.	Au	August 18,	18	- 1	1953	$\dashv$	August 19,	ust	19,	1953	23
(mm.)		ĺ					إير	and age	3ge				t			ł						+
	Femal	Ţ	Male	6)	ᅜ	Female	rle	Σ	Male	7		emale	0	Male	le	_	Fer	آچا.	$\dashv$	न ्	- 1		Fen	[F]
	3 4 5 3 4 5		3	1 5	3	4	5	3	4	5	3	4	5	3	4	5	· 6	4 5	-	3	4	5	3	4 5
505												-				-	-			.ena	$\dashv$	-	-	$\dashv$
515												_				POYC:		_	-		-	-		-
525		_		L		1									-	Lysimo	-				-		_	$\dashv$
535	erg sien	_	_	_								_				KT to tree of			-	-	-	_		$\dashv$
545			_	-								_				post dire	$\dashv$					_		-
555		_	_	_											-	istipa i		1	$\vdash$			-		-
565			-	_								_		Persa.en		news.			-	-	-	-	_	_
575	1	-	_	_												) 	-	Co-price				-	_	_
585	1 1 1	-	_					_			_	-				M.P. House					_			-
	1 4		_					L			-	 	Г			leto-d		(-C)MPP		_	_			_
509			_	_				_			-	-			-	HACTE!		-10mg 23/4 of	-
615	1 2	_	_	_								_				En Exten					-	~-		$\dashv$
625									1	-	-					x	-	_	_	-	-		-	$\dashv$
635	3	-							2						1	ועריבר	-				_	-
645	3 1	 	_						$\lfloor 1 \rfloor$		unu n	1			_	(COMPANY		_		-	-		_	-
655	1 1	-	_	_													$\dashv$	~	(Arada)		-		-
665	1 4		_	_													-	_				-	-	-
675	1 1 2	-		_												1	_		enter está	-	_	-
685		-	H									-							(23 04.8 .5			-		-
569			L	_							Н					Postera			LPW-04	+	$\dashv$	$\dashv$	-
502		_	1								_			_			-er -er 74	_		$\dashv$	-	-	4
715	-	-	L	_							_					JB/19ar J			- Sagaria		-	$\dashv$	_	-
725		-	_	_													_		-	1	1	-	-	, A-a-
735			L	_												_	-		-		7		+
745		H	-	_												-	-	$\dashv$	-	_	-		-
755		-		-											+	-	-	-	-	-#	1	- #	$-\parallel$	+
< 500			-	~~~																		****
> 759			H	Н						+	+	+			+	+	-	4	+	╢	$\forall$	$\parallel$	-	$\dashv$
Total	4 10 2 1 14 4	0	-	0	0	-	0	0	4	-	0	-	0	0	1	1	0	1 0		0	3	0 0		3 .0
			-

Table C-4. --Length frequencies of chum salmon taken from the Prince William Sound spawning grounds by age (in years) and sex, 1952-1957 --Continued

					_						i
Length	Sample No.	Ž		8		Sam	ple	Š.	19	-	Sa	Sample No.	e K	20	0	ω. W	amb	le N	lo. ¿	21		Sample No. 22	ole l	٠ و	22
by centi-	Pigot Bay	Зау				Long Bay	g Ba	Y			Mi	Mink Harbor	i arl	oor		ب	ackı	Jackpot Bay	3ay			South Port Chal	Po	rt C	hal-meter	, , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , ,	2	10	1052		· ·	,		1072		; <		,	1053	2			7		, ,		mers		,	i L
group (mm)	1engnu	1		3	-	gn v	ugust 21,	- 1	1733	300	Augus	August 62,	77	- 1	33	-	ngn	August 24,	- 1	1955	4	August	st 2	7,7	1953
/		-	ľ		1			ļ		د اً ۲	all c	1 P	+	ľ	-	ľ			ļ		ŀ
	Male	4		- la	+	Male	-	۲,	. I	e l	Male	e l	+	r er	15	4	તા	L	F.	긞		ď	- 1	Ğ,	Female
	-+	2		4 5	+	- 1	5	m	4	2	m	4	2	8	4 5	3	4	2	m	4 5		3 4	5	3	4
505		-		e-72	$\dashv$	-	-	_						_	-		_			A. 18-84
15	30.0			7 2 1 4			remod					-		-			_		-	-	_	_			┢
525		-	-	Sch.097	-	 	_				-	-	-	-	-	_	 		$\vdash$			_			T
35			-		-	_	_	ees Da			T		  -	$\vdash$	-	_			+				L		+
45		-	-	_	-	_	-				-	+	-	$\vdash$	-	-	L	*	+-	-	-	L		T	$\dagger$
55		-	-	_		-					-	-	-	$\vdash$	-		L		-	-	-	L			T
65				_	-		_		-		-	-	-	-	-	L		10,74	-	_	-	_			T
75		-	-	2	_		_		2			-	-	-		_		-	-	_	-				T
85	. ;=		-	200	-				3		-	-	-		1	_			_	2	-	_	L
95	3 I	_		-			-		1		_	-	-			_	1		_	-	_	_
05	į	-		in and		1 2	- wreste	- \					-	-	2		3	Marci Pela	-	3	-	1
15		-	-	2		mat m			3				_			_		-	_	5	_		7		_
25				Dat Proprie		Let D. y.W.	_		2				-				3			1	_	_
35		-	-			2			3				-				2			3		_
45	P-mjus-	w DO gard				2		.,	7				-		_		7		_	1	_	_
55	PATE	(Longarita	1,25			4	7						-		_	L	7		-	_	_	_	_		_
65	E-MASS	ныма	in hay			1							-90	_		_	-1	-	-		_	_	_		-
75	and a	rida	ļ.,		-	-						-	- J	_	_	_			-	_	_	_	L
85	a page services	-				3	_		                                     		-	-	-	 		_	_		-	_	-	_	-
95		PERTON			-	-	 		-	-	-	-	Carlo.	-					-	_	_	_	 		$\vdash$
05			-	-		- MEDIA			-			-	25.0	-					_		H	_	_		$\vdash$
15		202200	-							G/em		-	-	-	_	L		-	_	_	-	L	_		-
25		_	-	_	+	-			+-		-	-	-	-		_			-	_	-	_	_		T
35	-	-	-	_	$\vdash$	-	-		-	-	-	+	-	-	_	L			_	ļ_	-	_	_
45		-	-	-	-	 	-		-		_	+	-			_			-		_		_		-
55		Н	Н						-		-	-	-			_			 		-	_	L
< 500	-	_	-	_	-	_	_					-	-			_			_		_		ļ
59		-	H		H	$\sqcup$							-						-
otal	0	Ö	0	0 9	 	0 15	4	0	17	0	c	-	C	-	0	r	17	-	α-	0		-	-	c	-

Table C-4, -- Length frequencies of chum salmon taken from the Prince William Sound spawning grounds by age (in years) and sex, 1952-1957 -- Continued

Sample No. 27	Beartrap Bay	Sept. 2, 1953		Male Female	3 4 5 3 4 5								T			3	2 1		2 1 2		2 1 3	2 1		1					7000
Sample No. 26	Olsen Bay	Sept. 2, 1953		Male Female	3 4 5 3 4 5							2 1		1		2 3	1 2	2 4	2 1	4 1	1		1						a decree de
Sample No. 25		August 31, 1953	an	Male Female	3 4 5 3 4 5	1 440		1						2	n jedin gr	3 2	2 1	5 1 3	1 1	2	1 1	1 4	1	49)640		r mau				10.76			- V
rs/and 24	Sheep Bay	August 31, 1953	Sex	ale i Female	5		1	Arthr			1		2	3	3	1	2			4 1	1		2	1970	2	1 1
Sample No 23	Harbor			Male   Female	3 4 5 3 4 5		-						1 2			2 5	1 2		1		2	2	2	2 1		The Life	Parent Ca	7.793				7
Langth	by centi-	meter	(mm)	14. Tan. Din		505	515	525	535	545	555	565	575	585		509	615	625	635	645	655	665	675	685	695	705	715	725	735	745	755	< 500 -	>759

Table C-4, -- Length frequencies of chum salmon taken from the Prince William Sound spawning grounds by age --Continued (in years) and sex, 1952-1957

Table C-4. --Length frequencies of chum salmon taken from the Prince William Sound spawning grounds by age fin vears) and sex. 1952-1957 --Continued

Table C-4-. Length frequencies of chum salmon taken from the Prince William Sound spawning grounds by age

Length       Sample No. 39       Sample No. 39         by centi-       Eaglek Creek       Cedar Bay         meter       August 19, 1956       August 21, 1956         (mm.)       Male       Female       Male         505       2       3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3       5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 3 4 5 3 3 4 5 3 3 4 5 3 3 4 5 3 3 4 5 3 3 4 5 3 3 3 3	40 956	Sample No.  Duck River  August 24, and age  Male		Sheep Bay	No. 43 3ay 30, 1956  Female 3 4 5 3 4 5 1 1 1 1 1 2 2 2		Sample No. 4  Beartrap Bay  August 30, 19  Male Fer  3 4 5 3  1 1  1 2  2 2  2 2  3 3	5. 44 Bay 1956 Female 3 4 5 1 1 1 1 1 2 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3
er August 19, 1956  1.) Male Female 3 4 5 3 4 5  2 2 2  1 1 1 3  2 2 1  1 1 1 3  2 2 2  2 2 2  2 2 2  3 3 3 3 3  3 3 3 3	1956 Sex Female 1	August 24, and age Male	Ty.	August  Male 3 4 5 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1			artrap gust 30 le 4 5 4 5 1 1 1 1 2 2 2 2 3 3	Bay 1956 1956 1956 1956 1957 1957 1958 1958 1958 1958 1958 1958 1958 1958
1) Male Female Male 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5  1 1 1	Female 3 4 5 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	22 4 4 4 6 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8	TI CONTRACTOR STATE OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PRO	August  Male 3 4 5 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	900		gust 30	Fema 3 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4
Male Female Male 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 3 4 5 5 5 5	Sex female 1 1 2 2 2 6 6	8 4 4 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5	I I'm I was to be a second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of the second of	Male 3 4 5 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1			1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	Fema 3 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4
Male       Female       Male         3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4         2       1       1       1       5       1       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2       2	7emal 4 4 4 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1		To the second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second second se					Fema 3 4 4 5 2 4 4 5 5 3 1 1 1 2 2 4 4 5 5 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3
3     4     5     3     4     5     3     4       2     1     1     1     1     5       1     1     1     1     5       2     1     2     2     2       1     1     3     3     3       2     2     2     2       2     2     2     2       3     3     3     3       2     2     2     2       2     2     2     2       2     2     2     2       2     2     2     2       2     2     2     2       2     2     2     2       2     2     2     2       3     4     5     3     4       5     6     6     6     6     6       6     7     6     7     6     7       7     8     7     6     7     7       8     6     7     6     7     7       8     7     7     7     7     7       8     8     8     8     8     8       8     8     8     8 <td>7 1 2 6 1 1 2 2 1 4</td> <td>4 12470</td> <td>3 1 1 1 2 3</td> <td>3 1 1 2</td> <td>8</td> <td></td> <td></td> <td>4 1 1 2 2 4 2</td>	7 1 2 6 1 1 2 2 1 4	4 12470	3 1 1 1 2 3	3 1 1 2	8			4 1 1 2 2 4 2
2 1 1 2 1 1 1 3 1 1 3 2 2 2 2 3 3 3	2 2 1 1 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2		3 1 1 2	1 1 1 3 1	7 1 1 2		7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7	1 6 2 4 2
2 1 1 1 1 1 3 1 1 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2	1 2 6 6 1 1 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2		3 1 1 2	1 1 3 1	7 1 1 1		7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7 7	1 6 2 4 2
1 1 1 2 1 1 3 1 1 3 1 1 1 3 1 1 1 3 1 1 1 2 1 1 2 1 1 2 1 1 2 1 1 1 1	2 2 6 6 6 7 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2		3 1 1 2	1 1 3 1	7 1 1 1		3 2 2 7 1	2 4 5 3 1
1 1 1 3 1 1 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2	2 0 1 1 2 2 1 2 2 1 2 2 1 2 2 1 2 2 2 1 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2		3 1 1 2	1 1 3 1	2 1 1		1 1 1 2 2 2 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3	1 8 2 4 2
1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	2 0 1 1 2 2 2 2 2 2 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3	1 2 4 2 1 6 7 9 9 9 9 9 9 9 9 9 9 9 9 9 9 9 9 9 9	3 1 1 2	1 1 3 1	2 1 1		3 2 2 2 1	2 4 5
2 1 1 1 3 2 2 2 3 3 3 2 2 2	2 1 1 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2	1 2 4 2 2 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6	7 - 7	3 1	7 7 7		1 1 2 2 2 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3	1 E T 4 V
1 1 3 2 2 2 3 3 3 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2	1 2 6	1 2 2 6 6	7 - 8	3 1	2 1 2		3 2 2 1 1 2 2 2 2 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3	1 8 2 4 2
1 2 2 2 3 3 2 2 2 2 2	2 6	1 4 2 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6	3 1 7	3 1	2		3 2 2 1	w r 4 v
2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2	2 2 2 2 2 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3	1 2 6 6	3	3 1	2		3 2 2 1	0 4 7
2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2	2 1 2	9	3	3 1	2200		3 2 2	2 4 2
2 2 2	1	9	3	3 1			3 2	4 2
2	2 2	6.0.	1		1.4	_	3	7
	7	-	7	2 1	2			_
5	1		-	4	1		4	-
5		2	2	2			2
5			2	-			2
5				-	1		-	2
7004		1,000	2		2		1
5	- 1780 ·	A-2.	1
5					-
2
5		-
9		-				-	-	+
5	-						-
 						-	-	-
						200	-	-
								+
>759						-		ļ
al 1:16 1 0'16 0 0 19 0 0	17 0 3	17 0 0	18 0	1 14 3	1 16 10	0 -

Table C-4. --Length frequencies of chum salmon taken from the Prince William Sound spawning grounds by age (in years) and sex, 1952-1957 --Continued

August 15, 1957  August 25, 1957  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Male  Ma	by centi- Ja	Jackpot Bay	ot E	-			i A	Duck River	Duck River	er.	(+		ŭ .	Sheep Bay	Sheep Bay	y 50.	>
Sex and age    Female   Male   Female   Male     5 3   4   5   3   4   5   3   4   5     1	of the second	angr		•	1957	_	4	ngn	st 2		957		∢	, agu	it 25		957
Female         Male         Female         Male         Female         Female           5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4         5         3         4<	1 0							Sex	and	ag	6)
5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5       3       4       5         1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1         1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1 <th>Z</th> <th>ale</th> <th></th> <th>14</th> <th>ems</th> <th>ıle</th> <th>Z</th> <th>lale</th> <th></th> <th>Ŀ</th> <th>ema</th> <th>le</th> <th>Σ ···</th> <th>ale</th> <th></th> <th>Fе</th> <th>maj</th>	Z	ale		14	ems	ıle	Z	lale		Ŀ	ema	le	Σ ···	ale		Fе	maj
	3	4	5	3	4	2	3	- color	5	3	4	5	3		5	3	4
	NA.														- pa 1
	TaD et								THE REAL PROPERTY.						ine file
1															-
1		140													P-17		_
3       2       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1	-	7					L	-
3       2       8       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1	en en en	7			7			-									_
6       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1		-			3		2
2       8       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1	O.ofa	2			7				_				7			_	-
2       1       1       1       2       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1	-	3			9	-	-			7					247	_	-
2       8       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       2       1       2       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1	_	4			6		_
2       6       1       3       1       2       2       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1	- Anna	4	2		∞			1			-			2			7
2       3       2       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1	-	r.	7		9		-	3			7			2
1	-	2	2		3	2	-	7			3		200	7	7
2     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1     1 <td>_</td> <td>14</td> <td>-</td> <td>7360</td> <td>2</td> <td></td> <td>werest P</td> <td>3</td> <td></td> <td></td> <td>7</td> <td></td> <td>i de je</td> <td>-</td> <td></td> <td>Pro62/4</td> <td>-</td>	_	14	-	7360	2		werest P	3			7		i de je	-		Pro62/4	-
2	-	7		E Park	7	-	N-ville	3	- Junior					2	garant.		-
3       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1       1		2	2				rorses!			-	7	3	33.1	7	035-9C
	-			-		7	orana.				3		234,000	-	-
	Page 50						78454							1	-GPG
			3	titia			D01394	164	П		7		et The		STAID S
	-			1			i- disk						30.10			anco	1
				Shekara			RIGH				AUTO		Sept.		-179/R	-9/44	HOOR
				- Spiller			ir ituri	-								25473	-
							MAR						: 15			OBO B	-
							E2 carsilet										~~
							iehete						~
																	~.e/s
										1.00							*****
						1 1									` ~	-

Table C-5. Chum salmon sex ratios for the Prince William Sound area commercial catch, 1952-53 and 1956-58

Date	Sample number and location	Male	Female	Both
1952		···		-1
August 6	1 - Montague Island	56	92	148
August 12	2 - Port Gravina-Sheep Bay	8 2	100	182
August 12	3 - Unakwik-Port Fidalgo	20	13	33
Total		158	205	363
Percent		43.5	56.5	100.0
1953
July 15	4 - Montague Strait-Knight Island	62	100	162
July 21	5 - Montague Strait-Bainbridge
•	Island	70	99	169
August 3	6 - Eshamy	22	50	72
August 5	7 - Montague Strait	61	100	161
August 5	8 - Port Chalmers-Knight Island
Ü	Passage	44	74	118
Total		259	423	682
Percent		38.0	62.0	100.0
1956
June 25	9 - Galena Bay	5	0	5
June 27	10 - Unakwik Inlet	Ō	4	4
July 10	11 - Port Wells	50	39	89
July 10-11	12 - MacLeod Harbor-Point Helen	50	39	89
July 16-17	13 - Montague Strait-Knight Island		3,	0,
,	Passage	30	4 2	72
July 1 9	14 - Port Wells	50	45	95
July 19	15 - Valdez Arm	15	16	31
July 20	16 - MacLeod Harbor	42	50	92
July 20	17 - Valdez Arm	29	38	67
July 24	18 - Montague Strait-Knight Island
	Passage	23	50	73
August 2	19 - Hinchinbrook Island-Ports
	Gravina and Fidalgo	50	42	92
August 3	20 - New England Fish CoEllaman		50	96
August 3	21 - Valdez-Port Fidalgo	22	20	42
August 1-4	22 - Granite Bay Point	23	20	43
Total		435	455	890
Percent		48.9	51.1	100.0

Table C-5. Chum salmon sex ratios for the Prince William Sound area commercial catch, 1952-53 and 1956-58 -- Continued

Date	Sample number and location	Male	Female	Both 957
July 8	23 - Point Helen	53	46	99
July 9	24 - Point Helen	13	13	26
July 11	25 - Culross Island	5	4	9
July 13-14	26 - Porcupine Point	25	17	42
July 14	27 - Freemantle Point	45	25	70
July 21	28 - Bainbridge Point	12	8	20
July 22	29 – North Twin Bay	2	2	4
July 23	30 - Point Elrington	4	7	11
July 26	31 - Montague Strait-Knight Island Passage	50	40	90
July 28	32 - MacLeod Harbor	24	27	51
July 31	33 - Kiniklik Point	6	0	6
August 3	34 - Gravina Point	26	11	37
August 4	35 - Porcupine Point	61	54	115
August 8	36 - Point Elrington	13	17	30
August 10-11	37 - Bainbridge Point	15	29	44
August 12	38 - MacLeod Harbor	2	0	2
August 13	39 - Zaikof Bay	1	0	1
	37 - Baikor Bay
Total		357	300	657
Percent		54.3	45.7	100.0
958
July 6	40 - Culross Island	15	11	26
July 7	41 - Point Helen	10	15	25
July 8	42 - Point Helen	13	21	34
July 9	43 - Point Freemantle	11	15	26
July 12	44 - Johnstone Point	38	42	80
July 14	45 - Point Helen	23	27	50
July 15	46 - Point Elrington	3	12	15
July 16	47 - Point Elrington	1	0	1
July 20	48 - Point Freemantle	107	83	190
July 23	49 - Johnstone Point	37	33	70
July 29	50 - Kiniklik Point	13	14	27
July 30	51 - Point Freemantle	34	29	63
August 3	52 - Johnstone Point	20	10	30
August 6	53 - Point Helen	9	5	14
August 7-8	54 - Point Elrington	1	2	3
Total		334	320	654
Percent		51.1	48.9	100.0

Table C-6. Chum salmon sex ratios for the Prince William Sound spawning grounds, 1952-57

Date	Sample number and location $\underline{1}/$	Male	Female	Both
1952
August 15	1 - Sheep Bay (11)	10	36	46
August 20	2 - Duck River (44)	39	50	89
September 4	3 - Constantine Harbour (176)	50	13	63
September 11	4 - Sheep Bay (11)	25	19	44
Total		124	118	242
Percent		51.2	48.8	100.0
1953
July 23	5 - Sheep Bay (11)	46	52	98
July 24	6 - Beartrap Bay (20)	27	38	65
July 25	7 - Olsen Bay (23)	30	34	64
July 27	8 - Indian Creek (45)	18	23	41
August 1	9 - Coghill River (83)	13	15	28
August 4	10 - Jackpot Bay (120)	40	9	49
August 10	11 - Olsen Bay (23)	24	27	51
August 12	12 - Constantine Harbour (176)	19	10	29
August 17	13 - Duck River (44)	80	44	124
August 17	14 - Indian Creek (45)	0	0	0
August 18	15 - East Long Bay (58)	4	1	5
August 18	16 - Cedar Bay (63)	2	1	3
August 19	17 - Wells Bay (65)	3	3	6
August 21	18 - Pigot Bay (89)	1	8	9
August 21	19 - Long Bay (100)	49	46	95
August 22	20 - Mink Harbour (102)	1	4	5
August 24	21 - Jackpot Bay (120)	67	57	124
August 27	22 - South Port Chalmers (150)	4	2	6
August 28	23 - Constantine Harbour (176)	44	42	86
August 31	24 - Sheep Bay (11)	13	19	32
August 31	25 - Sheep Bay (12)	48	30	78
September 2	26 - Olsen Bay (23)	37	24	61
September 2	27 - Beartrap Bay (20)	54	50	104
September 3	28 - St. Mathews Bay (26)	5	2	7
September 3	29 - Port Fidalgo (32)	0	0	0
September 6	30 - Long Bay (58)	38	16	54
September 7	31 - Eaglek Creek (73)	16	8	24
Total		683	565	1,248
Percent		54.7	45.3	100.0

<sup>1/</sup> Number in parenthesis is number assigned by Fish and Wildlife Service to identify streams.

Table C-6. Chum salmon sex ratios for the Prince William Sound spawning grounds, 1952-57 -- Continued

Date	Sample number and location $rac{1}{}/$	Male	Female	Both 1954
August 16	32 - Sheep Bay (11)	19	16	35
August 22	33 - Cedar Bay (63)	9	5	14
August 24	34 - Eaglek Creek (73)	87	29	116
Total		115	50	165
Percent		69.7	30.3	100.0
1955
August 21	35 - Crab Bay (141)	9	8	17
September 4	36 - Duck River (44)	33	41	74
Total		42	49	91
Percent		46.1	53.9	100.0
1956
August 16	37 - McClure Bay (110)	16	14	30
August 18	38 - Coghill River (83)	48	58	106
August 19	39 - Eaglek Creek (73)	40	61	101
August 21	40 - Cedar Bay (63)	50	32	82
August 22	41 - Long Bay (58)	34	45	7 9
August 24	42 - Duck River (44)	38	55	93
August 30	43 - Sheep Bay (12)	5 7	73	130
August 31	44 - Beartrap Bay (20)	20	20	40
August 31	45 - Olsen Bay (23)	35	19	54
September 9	46 - Long Bay (100)	31	58	89
Total		369	435	804
Percent		45.9	54.1	100.0
1957
August 15	47 - Jackpot Bay (120)	59	60	119
August 17	48 - North Pigot Bay (89N)	70	6 2	132
August 23	49 - Duck River (44)	20	22	42
August 25	50 - Sheep Bay (11)	20	20	40
Total		169	164	333
Percent		50.7	49.3	100.0

MS #1218

Created in 1849, the Department of the Interior--America's Department of Natural Resources--is concerned with the management, conservation, and development of the Nation's water, wildlife, mineral, forest, and park and recreational resources. It also has major responsibilities for Indian and Territorial affairs.

As the Nation's principal conservation agency, the Department works to assure that nonrenewable resources are developed and used wisely, that park and recreational resources are conserved for the future, and that renewable resources make their full contribution to the progress, prosperity, and security of the United States--now and in the future.

R
7
	7